Quick Action To Pick Candidate For Butler Seat Demanded By Law

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Both Democrat and Republican state central committees will meet in Lincoln Saturday morning in an effort to select a nominee to fill the vacancy caused by the unexpected death of Sen. Hugh Butler.

Attorney General C. S. Beck advised both party chairmen early Friday that to exercise an "abundance of caution and to be absolutely safe" in following state law they had better convene committee meetings and select a nominee so that their action and the $50 filing fee could be given the secretary of state before the 12 o'clock closing hour of the office.

Beck explained that state law provides that if a vacancy occurs within 10 days after the primary filing deadline the central committees are required to nominate a candidate each within three days. The law makes no provision for excepting Sunday and holidays from the three day limit.

The filing deadline was Thursday and the three day limit would be Sunday followed by a legal holiday Monday. Fixed closing hour of the office of the secretary of state on Saturday is noon. This peculiar situation for which no provision is made in state law limits time for committee action.

The provisions under which the political parties must act are in a special section of the statutes dealing with deaths of incumbents to elective offices whose terms extend beyond the next general election. The filling of other vacancies are not so restrictive.

Both state committees consist of 86 members with a majority of 44 required for a quorum. A majority of those meeting can make the nomination.

William Meier, Minden, Democratic state chairman, said that he has called a meeting at the Lincoln hotel at 9 a. m. Saturday morning. He refused to speculate on who might be nominated or what action the committee will take.

W. W. Spear, Fremont, Republican state chairman, also called a meeting for 9 a. m. Saturday at the Cornhusker hotel. He said the committee is meeting on the assumption that no filing has been made to fill the vacancy notwithstanding the attempt of former Rep. Howard Buffett of Omaha to file after the closing hours of the secretary of state's office.

Hruska Enters Field Vying For Vacated Senate Post

OMAHA (AP)—Rep. Roman Hruska (R-Neb) said Friday he would be available for the nomination to succeed the late Sen. Hugh Butler in the U.S. Senate.

This announcement, made in Omaha by Raymond E. McGrath, Hruska's representative put still more emphasis on the meeting of state central committees Saturday to pick nominees for the 4-year senate term created by Butler's death Thursday night.

Hruska had been mentioned as a possible candidate for this nomination by numerous Re-

Water Level 'All Right' At A Plant

The effects of the new water use regulations began to show early Saturday morning, and the word was that the water level in Lincoln reservoirs was holding satisfactorily.

A spokesman at the A Street Pumping Station in Lincoln said shortly after midnight that the water level was 13 and a half feet in the north reservoir and 11 feet in the south reservoir. This provides a safe margin over the minimum level during the night from which it is difficult to build up a safe amount by morning.

Friday was the first day in which no water for sprinkling could be used from midnight to 5 p.m., and during the day pumping at the plant was at the rate of about 35 million gallons per day. This was some 10 million gallons lower than it has been for the last few days when alternate sides of the streets were watered all day.

Nebraska's Share: Allotment For Wheat Cut 12 Pct.

The Department of Agriculture Friday set Nebraska's 1955 wheat acreage allotment at 3,207,330 acres—12.3 per cent less than the permitted acres that produced this year's crop.

It was the second cutback in two years calculated in state reductions to bring the national wheat acreage down to 55,000,000 acres. Nebraska's 1954 reduction was 17 per cent.

Robert Webb, administrative officer for the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office said the Nebraska acreage for 1955 would be 452,488 acres down from the 3,639,818 acre allotment this year. The Nebraska cutback was slightly greater than for the nation as a whole.

County by county allocations are expected to be determined not later than next Wednesday. After that the farm-by-farm will be figured.

The national cutback to 55 million acres was ordered by Agriculture Secretary Benson last month.

Last year, a 17 per cent acreage cut was ordered nationally but Nebraska's amounted to 20.6 per cent. The Nebraska cut was from 4,551,000 acres in 1953 to the approximately 3,660,000 acres this year.

Varies With States

The percentage of acreage reduction is not across-the-board. It varies with the states, the counties and with individual farms, Webb pointed out.

The allotments are based on a 10-year average with modifications to take into account more recent trends.

A wheat grower referendum has been set nationally for July 23 to approve marketing quotas to enforce planting goals.

In last year's referendum, 83 per cent of Nebraska growers approved the marketing quotas, compared with a national average of 87 per cent in favor. A two-thirds majority is required.

New Premier Is On The Spot

Uncle Sam Wants To Know Just What France's Plans Are After Indochina Pullback

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
WASHINGTON (INS)—The United States in an angry mood instructed its diplomats in Paris Friday to find out just what the French intend to do in Indochina now that they have abandoned a good part of the important Red River Delta without a fight.

State Department spokesman Henry Suydam said in answer to questions that the U. S. Embassy in Paris is talking with the new French government in an effort to determine French intentions in Indochina.

Suydam would say nothing about the exact questions the U.S. officials were told to ask the French but the displeasure of Washington was obvious.

State Department officials were so unhappy with the situation in which the French abandoned several million Vietnamese to the Communists that it appeared something akin to the long-threatened "agonizing reappraisal" of U.S. foreign policy was under way.

Want a Hard Look

The United States was particularly anxious in taking another hard look at the new French Premier Pierre Mendes-France who had made a good initial impression on U.S. officials despite fears that his promise of armistice in 30 days meant appeasement and surrender.

It was known that in talks with Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith the new French premier made a convincing denial that he intended anything like surrender, and the United States took this denial just about at face value.

Now, with the French withdrawal from so much of the delta area without advance notice, U. S. officials have begun to wonder just how frank and honest Mendes-France was with Smith.

It was recalled that the French warned the Western allies a month ago that the situation in the delta was precarious. The warning came in the opening minutes of the five-power military conference held by the United States, France, Britain, Australia and New Zealand at the Pentagon.

Frank Statement

The British, particularly wanted to talk about the broad military problem of southeast Asia but French Gen. Jean Valuy brought his colleagues up short right at the beginning by saying France alone had little chance of holding the delta.

Then he asked the Allied generals what their countries intended to do about it. The generals and admirals were silent. They could not answer for their governments.

The incident may have had a good deal of bearing on French thinking, for if the French could not save the situation alone and their Allies would not help it seemed to many Frenchmen there was little point in taking more casualties in a losing war.

In addition, the French have the problem of their North African possessions, much more important to France than Indochina both economically and strategically.

The peoples of North Africa are becoming increasingly rebellious. Reports have been received in Washington that Arab nationalists more and more are attacking and killing Frenchmen in the countryside.

HANOI (INS)—The French high command said Friday that evacuation of French Union forces from the rebel-infested southern Red River Delta region in Indochina has been completed successfully.

(Ely said the evacuation was "specifically military" and has no other significance.)

Ike Wins On Tax Revision

Senate Votes Down General Levy Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—A giant bill overhauling the nation's tax structure was passed by the Senate Friday, 69-9, in pretty much the form that President Eisenhower asked.

Just before passage, the Senate rejected for the fourth time a three-day move to grant a general income tax cut. The bill as it stands provides about $1,300,000,000 in selected tax cuts for corporations and individuals, but changes no major rates.

The fourth and final turnout of general tax relief was a 62-15 vote against a motion by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) to instruct the Finance Committee to rewrite the bill so as to give a general tax cut to persons in the middle and low income brackets.

Nebraska's Republican Senator Bowring voted for the general tax revision bill and against Sen. Douglas' motion.

Douglas argued that the bill benefited corporations and rich individuals, but did little for others. The majority heeded the argument that it was a balanced bill that corrected many inequities in present law.

The measure, now swollen by amendments to a total of more than 1,300 pages, represents the first sweeping revision of general tax legislation in 78 years. Eisenhower has called it essential to the program of his administration.

A House and Senate Conference Committee must now get together and adjust differences between the versions passed by the two branches. There are numerous differences, but most of them are technical.

The Senate named Sens. Milliken (R-Colo.), Williams (R-Dele.), George (D-Ga.) and Byrd (D-Va.) as its representatives in the adjusting process. Milliken shepherded the bill through the Senate.

Filing Deadline Question May Bring Court Action

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

At what hour and place do filings for elective office close?

This is a question that has the Republican party in an uproar and may result in court action.

Former Rep. Howard Buffett of Omaha waited in Lincoln all afternoon Thursday for Sen. Hugh Butler to die. He had paid his filing fee as a candidate to succeed the senior Nebraska senator before leaving home.

Lingered on past the 5 p. m. closing hour of the office of the secretary of state. Finally, Buffett gave up his vigil and returned to Omaha only to be greeted on his arrival with the word that the senator had died.

Before leaving Lincoln he had left his filing and receipt with Charles W. Phillips, Lincoln attorney, who delivered it at the home of Secretary of State Frank Marsh.

Under Door Learning of the Buffett action, John B. Quinn, Lincoln a staunch pro-Eisenhower Republican, paid his $50 filing fee and took it to the office of the secretary of state at 11:59 p. m. where it was pushed under the door.

Quinn contends that the statutes provides that nomination papers shall be filed "in the office of the secretary of state" and questions legality of delivery at the secretary's home.

The Lincoln man says that he questions the legality of either his own or Buffett's filing and favors the selection being made by the state central committee.

Mrs. Lawlor Dies, Services Monday Funeral services for Mrs. Nicholas Lawlor, 81, of 1826 A, who died at her home Friday, will be held at 10 a. m. Monday at St. Mary's Cathedral. Msgr. C. J. Riordan will officiate and burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at the home at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. The family requests no flowers. Mrs. Lawlor was born in Pultaski, N. Y., in 1873. She moved to Lincoln in 1894, where she married Nicholas Lawlor, who died in 1936.

She was a member of St. Mary's Cathedral. Survivors are her sons, John F. and Charles O., both of Lincoln; daughters, Mrs. Fred Deutsch of Norfolk and Mrs. Frank Jenkins of Omaha; brother, Frank R. Mullen of Lincoln, and five grandchildren.

Both were submitted after closing of the office at 5 p. m.

Secretary of State Marsh Friday returned both filings on advice of Attorney General C. S. Beck on the grounds that they were submitted after the 5 p. m. deadline. Beck supports his stand on the basis of a Minnesota Supreme Court decision in an identical attempt at filing after the noon closing hour on Saturday.

The attorney general points out that the Nebraska statutes provide the office hours of state employees as 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., Sundays and holidays excluded, and Saturdays from 8 a. m. to 12 noon.

Omaha attorneys early Friday indicated that they would resort to the courts to make Marsh accept the Buffett filing. They inquired of the Supreme Court whether they would be in session if a request was made to bring an original mandamus action to force Marsh to accept the filing.

Reasons Why It is understood that they were informed of rules of the court which provide that briefs must be filed in such an action showing that the court has jurisdiction and reasons why it is necessary that they act. No further word was received from the Omaha attorneys.

The court on Saturday holds its regular consultation at which time the brief could be considered, but whether or not to hear the application would be a decision of a majority of the court.

Usual procedure in an action of this kind would be started in the district court and if either party was dissatisfied with the findings appeal could be made to the supreme court.

Should the action be accepted by the court, it was explained, time would have to be allowed for an answer to be filed by state officials before action would be taken by the court.

This time element is especially important on whether the Buffett filing will be accepted because the secretary of state is required by law to print and certify to county clerks the names to go on the ballots not later than July 16.

Even if the Supreme Court considers the reported Buffett action is worthy of hearing, many Statehouse attorneys questioned whether it would be possible for hearing to be held and action taken in time to have his name on the primary ballot in case his contentions are correct.

Philippines Quake Kills Possible 22

MANILLA (Saturday) (P)—An earthquake of great violence spread terror and destruction through the Central Philippines and left possibly 22 dead in the ruins of homes and buildings. Scores were injured.

Sorsogon, a provincial capital of 26,000 about 230 miles southeast of Manila, was in ruins. The head of the constabulary there said "20 persons are believed dead" and "property damage is enormous."

Huge cracks opened in the chain of dead volcanoes that gird Sorsogon. Tremendous landslides thundered down their slopes in the valleys of the rich agricultural region.

The complete picture of devastation was emerging slowly from the district because of knocked out communications.

Nebraska's Republican Senator Bowring voted for the general tax revision bill and against Sen. Douglas' motion.

Douglas argued that the bill benefited corporations and rich individuals, but did little for others. The majority heeded the argument that it was a balanced bill that corrected many inequities in present law.

The huge measure, now swollen by amendments to a total of more than 1,300 pages, represents the first sweeping revision of general tax legislation in 78 years. Eisenhower has called it essential to the program of his administration.

A House and Senate Conference Committee must now get together and adjust differences between the versions passed by the two branches. There are numerous differences, but most of them are technical.

The Senate named Sens. Milliken (R-Colo.), Williams (R-Dele.), George (D-Ga.) and Byrd (D-Va.) as its representatives in the adjusting process. Milliken shepherded the bill through the Senate.

Harrison Crop Prop Plan Given House Approval, 228-170

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise farm bill culling for flexible price supports for major crops and arming President Eisenhower with other powers to attack the problem of mountainous surpluses was passed by the House Friday and sent to the Senate.

Action was on a voice vote.

The President didn't get all the authority he wanted to administer price supports on a sliding scale ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

But the House voted 228-170 on a rollcall to allow the Agriculture Department to adjust its price props on a range extending from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity.

All four of Nebraska's Republican representatives — Curtis, Miller, Harrison and Hruska — voted for passage of the bill.

This was an administration-backed compromise introduced at the last minute by Rep. Harrison (R-Nebr.). It effectively blocked a strong drive by farm state legislators to continue supports at 90 per cent of parity through 1955.

Six Basic Crops

Parity is a legal standard for fixing prices on the six basic crops, wheat, cotton, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco. Adjustments are made in relation to the cost of basic things the farmer needs to produce his crops.

Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Moore told members the House action was "encouraging" because it was a move toward full flexibility in the government's price support program. He spoke in the absence of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who is speaking in Port Isabel, Tex., Saturday.

Outstanding provisions in the bill include:

1. A 2½ billion dollar "set aside" of surpluses from the Commodity Credit Corporation's stocks for relief, foreign aid, stockpile and other purposes. It would also cut down marketable surpluses, reducing the "dampening" effect of CCC stocks hanging over the market.
2. An incentive payment plan for wool growers, permitting the secretary of agriculture to support wool prices as high as 110 per cent of parity to encourage production closer to the level of domestic requirements.

Dairy Supports Hiked

3. A hike in price supports for dairy products from the present floor of 75 per cent of parity to 80 per cent. The increase would be effective until next April 1. This section of the bill also contains authority for direct subsidies to butter producers and processors to encourage disposal of dairy surpluses.

But the big issue in the legislation was flexible price supports. The administration argues that a sliding scale would tend to slow down the accumulation of surpluses—6½ billion dollars worth—which are now bulging out of government warehouses.

Murray Orders Martial Law For Primary Election

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Martial law was ordered Friday in five counties for Oklahoma's primary election next Tuesday. Gov. Johnston Murray's order was the aftermath of a vote-selling scandal that has resulted in charges against six persons.

The order will place National Guardsmen in charge of voting in Pittsburg, Le Flore, Sequoyah, Cherokee and Adair counties. Murray, commander-in-chief of the guard, said other counties may be placed under martial law before Tuesday.

Murray's wife, Mrs. Willie E. Murray, is one of 16 Democratic candidates for governor. By law Murray may not succeed himself.

"Appalling"

In taking the drastic action, Murray described voting conditions in those counties as "appalling." He said he suspects more counties of irregularities and that he has unverified information "that is simply terrific."

Tuesday's election is for nomination of one U.S. senator, governor, Oklahoma's six congressmen and all other statewide offices.

Murray's personally ordered investigation led to six persons being charged last week in Sequoyah County for alleged selling and buying of votes. Key man in the cases appeared to be Fred Patterson who was arrested on a charge of selling absentee ballots to a special agent Murray planted in the area, supposedly as a campaign worker for his wife.

Stoffer was an officer of the Citizens State Bank for 12 years.

Pressure For Foreign Policy Restudy Mounting; Both Parties Are Uneasy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strong pressure for a reappraisal of American foreign policy developed in the Senate Friday, with members of both parties expressing uneasiness about the course of world events.

"Our basic foreign policy is at the crossroads," Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, declared.

He told the Senate the American people will refuse to support the United Nations if Communist China becomes a member. In an apparent reply to Prime Minister Winston Churchill's recent plea for a try at "peaceful coexistence" with the Russians, Johnson said:

"Want No Appeasement

"The American people want no appeasement of the Communists."

The Eisenhower administration has taken a stand against U. N. membership for the Red Chinese, but Johnson and Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader, say some of America's allies are encouraging admission of the Reds.

It may be necessary to "start out in a new direction" on foreign policy, Johnson said, and in any event the nation must decide "what we will defend, where we will defend it and how we will defend it."

Lehman Makes Request

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) said he agreed with Johnson that the country's foreign policy should be reappraised, adding, "I frankly do not know what it is today."

The American People Are "Very Uneasy"

The American people are "very uneasy about the intentions of longtime allies," Johnson said. He did not name them, but it was apparent that he was talking about France and Great Britain.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has disturbed Congress with his proposal that Southeast Asian nations enter into a series of "Locarno type" non-aggression pacts with Red China. The House has already recommended that foreign aid funds be withheld from any Asian nation following Eden's suggestion.

Dulles Makes Promise

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secretary of State Dulles told senators

Friday he expects an attempt to give Red China United Nations membership this fall, and promised that the Eisenhower administration would do its utmost to block the move.

However, legislators who heard Dulles testify at a closed meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee described him as "cool" toward proposals that the United States quit the U. N. if the Chinese Communists win membership.

Terry: Omahan Best For Senate

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—State Senator Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, candidate for U. S. Senate, Republican nomination, said Friday night that for the GOP central committee not to nominate an Omaha man for the Butler vacancy would be committing political suicide. In naming his choice for a candidate Carpenter said:

"Omaha has a man who is respected by both parties, a man of known ability, a man of conservative qualities and a man whom any public responsibility can be entrusted.

"If the Republican central committee has any judgment it will demand that Omaha first citizen Dale Clark accept the nomination as a public service and not in the position of a political candidate.

"To appoint Governor Crosby or Congressman Curtis would be an admission of political cowardice."

Crosby and Curtis oppose Carpenter for the Republican nomination for the term left vacant by the death of Dwight Griswold of Scottsbluff.

Clark is an Omaha banker.

Chadron Accident Kills Woman, 60

CHADRON, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Charles Morall, 60, was fatally injured Friday when her car left the highway and overturned eight miles west of here.

She died Friday night in a Chadron hospital.

She was alone in the car at the time of the Highway 20 accident.

Mrs. Morall's death was Nebraska's 133rd traffic death of the year. A year ago the total was 116.

CHICAGO (INS)—Charles S. Davis, 77-year-old board chairman of the Borg-Warner Corp., died in Paris, according to word received Friday by his son Johnson B. Davis of Chicago.

Bank Holdup Nets Near $50,000

CHICAGO (AP)—Five robbers, armed to the teeth and operating at high speed, robbed the Ashland State Bank of nearly $50,000 in a bold, two-minute daylight holdup Friday.

They escaped through an alley behind the bank in a stolen Cadillac while two alerted police squads raced to the wrong location because of a mixup over the address. It was Chicago's first bank robbery in more than five years.

The empty getaway car later was found abandoned only a few blocks away.

Four of the robbers, carrying pistols, dashed into the bank on the run just a few minutes after the opening. A fifth man, holding a machine gun, stood guard at the side door leading to the bank parking lot. Police believe a sixth man remained at the wheel of their car.

The four invaders shouted hurried commands to the 10 bank employees and one customer to lie down on the floor. Then they vaulted over counters and into the tellers' cages, scooping all bills in sight into canvas bags.

Meanwhile, because of a mistake in transmitting the address, two police squads were sent to 95th St. and S. Park Ave., more than a mile from the bank.

An audit showed the loot totaled $46,878. All is covered by insurance.

E. S. Assenmacher Estate $189,503

The estate of Edward S. Assenmacher, a former vice president of the Assenmacher Construction Co., has been valued at $189,503.39, according to an inventory filed in Lancaster County Court.

A former Lincoln resident, Mr. Assenmacher had resided at Raymond for 18 years until his death, April 11.

The estate inventory included 168 shares in the W. J. Assenmacher Co., $41,749.68; a 240-acre farm, $24,000; U. S. treasury bonds, $8,330.79; 240 stock shares of First National Bank of Lincoln stock, $11,520; U. S. Savings Bonds, $19,087; mortgage-note, $16,170.52, and balance due on personal account with Assenmacher Co., $47,707.41.

HST Reported Generally Better

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman's condition was reported generally improved Friday, with his temperature, pulse and respiration normal.

A hospital spokesman Friday night reported that "to all appearances it may be said this was his best day since his critical stage last week."

The spokesman said Truman's general condition has improved greatly and he had eaten milk, toast, egg, tomato juice, chicken, potatoes and gravy, orange juice and tea during the day. He had no nausea though his temperature increased slightly to 99.8. His intestinal inflammation "has cleared up considerably," the spokesman added.

CAA To Continue 2 State Stations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration announced it will continue operation of 37 interstate airways communications stations which it had planned to discontinue.

Included in the list are stations at Lexington and Lincoln, Neb.

A CAA official in Lincoln said the Lincoln installation served as a communication communications station and as a tower control at the Lincoln airport. This work was turned over to the military after the opening of the Lincoln Air Base. The personnel at the station, which will now probably be located at Union Airport, include enough to operate the radio equipment on a three shift basis.

Sen. Eva Bowring (R-Neb) wired the Lexington Chamber of Commerce that continuance of the Lexington station was almost certain.

The Chamber of Commerce, fearing that the station might be relocated or abolished as an economy measure, had vigorously supported continuance of the station.

An important phase of the station's work is to report weather information to overhead aircraft.

The CAA appropriations bill, providing money for the stations, has been sent to the White House for President Eisenhower's signature, Sen. Bowring said.

Harrison Crop Prop Plan Given House Approval, 228-170

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise farm bill calling for flexible price supports for major crops and arming President Eisenhower with other powers to attack the problem of mountainous surpluses was passed by the House Friday and sent to the Senate.

The President didn't get all the authority he wanted to administer price supports on a sliding scale ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

But the House voted 228-170 on a rollcall to allow the Agriculture Department to adjust its price supports to a range extending from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity.

All four of Nebraska's Republican representatives — Curtis, Miller, Harrison and Hruska — voted for passage of the bill.

This was an administration-backed compromise introduced at the last minute by Rep. Harrison (R-Neb.). It effectively blocked a strong drive by farm state legislators to continue supports at 90 per cent of parity through 1955.

Six Basic Crops
Parity is a legal standard for fixing prices on the six basic crops, wheat, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco. Adjustments are made in relation to the cost of basic things the farmer needs to produce his crops.

Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse told reporters the House action was "encouraging" because it was a move toward full flexibility in the government's price support program. He spoke in the absence of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who is speaking in Port Isabel, Tex., Saturday.

Outstanding provisions in the bill include:

1. A 2½ billion dollar "set aside" of surpluses from the Commodity Credit Corporation's stocks for relief, foreign aid, stockpiles and other purposes. It would also cut down marketable surpluses, reducing the "dampening" effect of CCC stocks hanging over the market.

2. An incentive payment plan for wool growers, permitting the secretary of agriculture to support wool prices as high as 110 per cent of parity to encourage production closer to the level of domestic requirements.

Dairy Supports Hiked
3. A hike in price supports for dairy products from the present floor of 75 per cent of parity to 80 per cent. The increase would be effective until next April 1. This section of the bill also contains authority for direct subsidies to butter producers and processors to encourage disposal of dairy surpluses.

But the big issue in the legislation was flexible price supports. The administration argues that a sliding scale would tend to slow down the accumulation of surpluses—½ billion dollars worth—which are now bulging out of government warehouses.

Johnson thus lined up behind Knowland for what they termed a realistic review of the American position in world affairs. Like Knowland, he appealed to the Senate to forget about partisan politics while it considers the international issues.

CAA To Continue 2 State Stations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration announced it will continue operation of 37 interstate airways communications stations which it had planned to discontinue.

Included in the list are stations at Lexington and Lincoln, Neb.

A CAA official in Lincoln said the Lincoln installation served as a combination communications station and as a tower control at the Lincoln airport. This work was turned over to the military after the opening of the Lincoln Air Base. The personnel at the station, which will now probably be located at Union Airport, include enough to operate the radio equipment on a three shift basis.

Sen. Eva Bowring (R-Neb.) wired the Lexington Chamber of Commerce that continuance of the Lexington station was almost certain.

The Chamber of Commerce, fearing that the station might be relocated or abolished as an economy measure, had vigorously supported continuance of the station.

An important phase of the station's work is to report weather information to overhead aircraft.

The CAA appropriations bill, providing money for the stations, has been sent to the White House for President Eisenhower's signature, Sen. Bowring said.

French Condemn Six To Death On Brutality Charges

84 Get Life For Wartime Camp Crimes

METZ, France (AP)—A French military tribunal Friday condemned to death six former officers and guards of the wartime Nazi concentration camp at Struthof, in eastern France. Sentences ranging up to life in solitary confinement were given to 84 others. Only two were acquitted in the two-week trial on murder and brutality charges. At least 3,000 people of eight nationalities were believed killed in the camp, which operated both a gas chamber and a human incinerator.

In addition to the six sentenced to death, nine others had been held in prison since the war's end. Sixteen other former members of the Struthof staff who had been released conditionally after serving in prison for five years also appeared in court. Of the rest, never arrested, 43 were given death sentences in absentia.

One of the six facing death, Fritz Hartjenstein, 49, the camp's fourth commander, appeared to flinch as he sought to hold back sobs during a final plea for mercy earlier Friday.

"An Error"
"I presumed that all my subordinates had the qualities which were normal for a soldier at the front," he testified. "This was an error. That was my fault in a camp which became a catastrophe. Permit me, Monsieur le President, to bow before your humanity."

The camp's first commander, a 60-year-old Dresden storm trooper, Hans Huttig, received the solitary confinement sentence for life. He showed no emotion when he made a plea for mercy. "I express my most profound regrets for the exposing of the deportees to the cold," he testified. "It was Kramer (former camp officer) who ordered this horrible crime."

In passing judgment, the court agreed with the prosecution argument that the defense could not legitimately claim that the defendants merely obeyed orders from higher authorities.

The six awarded the death sentence are Hartjenstein, of Eisingen; Franz Ehrmanntraut, of Worsweiler; Albert Fuchs, 59, of Kehl, assistant camp director; Robert Nitsch, 54, of Rasz, Czechoslovakia, assistant camp administrator; Herbert Oehler, 48, of Dieringhauser, and Wolfgang Sues, 47, of Nurnberg.

Mrs. Kimball Rite Planned Saturday

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Westminster Presbyterian Church chapel for Mrs. Jennie R. Kimball, 90, of 1268 So. 20th, who died Thursday.

Born in Albia, Ia., in 1863, Mrs. Kimball came to Lincoln with her husband in 1885. Her husband was one of the founders of the Kimball Brothers Marble and Granite Company.

She was a member of the Presbyterian Church, the Lincoln Woman's Club, and the Thursday Morning Lecture Circle.

Survivors include her sons, Curtis C. and Richard L., both of Lincoln; a brother, John Lower of Des Moines, Ia.; a sister, Nell Winslow of Colorado Springs, Colo.; five grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Jack Whitten, Phil Hardy, James M. Farland, Walker Batten, C. N. Benjamin, and C. M. Loomis.

Safety Key For Fourth

Stay alive over the Fourth of July weekend. It's a small thing to ask, but the National Safety Council predicts close to 350 people will die violently on the nation's highways.

Col. C. J. Sanders of the State Safety Patrol cautions the best way to stay alive over the weekend is to stay home and off the highways. The next best thing, the colonel said, is to use caution if you must drive.

Col. Sanders reports that his highway patrolmen will be out in full force and working overtime to help drivers obey the laws of safety that help keep them alive. Sheriff Merle Karnopp reminded drivers that drinking while driving is a deadly combination, and that good sense and good manners on the highway are the best bet for staying alive.

For city drivers, Police Chief Joseph Carroll asked for continuation of the city's present good driving record. He noted that to date, there have been 600 less accidents this year than last at the same date. He pointed, too, to the fact that there have been 10 less injury accidents this year than last, and one fewer death on the city's streets.

Singfest To Open In Pinewood Bowl

Hydro Lab Is Moving To Denver

Another government agency, the hydrologic laboratory, is moving out of Lincoln as a result of fund cuts for operation in Missouri Valley work.

The chief of the laboratory, Arnold I. Johnson, who has been with the department six years, said the lab will be moved to the Denver Federal Center. The office in Lincoln officially closed Friday, Johnson said.

The hydrologic lab is set up to determine the water carrying qualities of different soils. This, according to Johnson, involves both water tables and ground water, along with the properties of rocks for water carrying potential.

The lab, a subdivision of groundwater branch of the Geologic Survey—all of which comes under the Department of Interior—has been in Lincoln for six years. Johnson said the work of the lab will be expanded when it shifts to Denver, but the work will not be centered around studies in the Missouri basin, as it previously had.

Johnson said the move was made necessary by decrease in funds made available by the administration for continued study of the Missouri Basin.

The lab had been located at the University of Nebraska in the Conservation and Survey Division under Eugene Reed.

Senator Butler's Death

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Nebraska suffers another grievous loss in the death of its ranking senior senator, Hugh Butler of Omaha. He was a kindly, neighborly man with a great capacity for friendship, a trait that those who tried to unseat him in his political career quickly discovered. He was a stabilizing force at all times in the solidly Republican delegation, a consistent conservative but first and last a loyal, devoted party worker.

Forgotten now with the Republican return to power in Washington is the fact that with the late Sen. Kenneth Wherry, Sen. Butler in quiet, effective spirit never permitted despair to handicap him in his efforts to revive his party during the early lull days of the New Deal. He contributed generously of his time and energy to holding the lines. And it can be said perhaps that through his efforts and the efforts of Sen. Wherry, then serving as chairman of the Republican state committee, Nebraska was one of the first states to be returned to the Republican column in the Midwest.

A staunch friend of the late Sen. Bob Taft whom Sen. Butler supported, to borrow a title conferred upon Mr. Taft in a national sense, Sen. Butler was "Mr. Republican" in Nebraska.

Providence has dealt rather unkindly with Republican leadership in this state. First came the death of Sen. Wherry, then Sen. Dwight Griswold, and now Sen. Butler. And in the House, Nebraskans lost the late Karl Stefan of the Third Nebraska District, dean of Nebraska's House delegation. In terms of seniority, which determines committee assignment, it is a heavy blow. Sen. Butler was chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, an assignment of special importance to Nebraska with the state's vital interest in irrigation mat-

One capable Nebraska editor, Sterling McCaw of the Norfolk News, suggested recently that before Nebraskans add old Ft. Robinson to their state park system, they should look a gift horse squarely in the mouth with a special thought about capital investment, plus continuing cost of maintenance. We are spending thousands of dollars on parks, Mr. McCaw cautioned, which could be commended as a common-sense approach to any step taken by Nebraskans and which suggests the people be given the facts.

Foremost fact is that Nebraskans never have been anything but cautious, frequently to a fault. The state was admitted into the Union in 1867. It did not take even so much as a single step toward setting up a state park system for 66 years, just four years short of man's allotted life span of three score and ten. And whatever else is to be said, the pursestrings have been held tightly, so tightly as to be taut, when it came to dishing out dollars for the development of the state parks.

Whereas the notion seems to prevail that hundreds of thousands have been spent, the facts tell a different story. In the last four bienniums, starting with the Legislature of 1947, and covering appropriations up to 1953, just short of a decade, the total capital outlay for buildings and improvements for the seven parks in the state is but $294,520. That is less than $37,000 apiece for seven parks, embracing nearly 2,500 acres of land, although this figure does not include operating expense, supplies, maintenance and repairs which, it can be said, have been equally economical if not niggardly, and to a point of absurdity. The figures for each biennium may be of interest: 1947-1949, $36,460; 1949-1951, $92,200; 1951-1953, $52,100; 1953-1955, $113,760. Total for four bienniums, $294,520.

The figures for Arbor Lodge, Morton's home which came to Nebraska as a gift, tell the story of what we have done about state parks. In the biennium starting in 1947, the Legislature appropriated $500 to cover the two years—two years later, $3,000—still two years later, $1,200—and for 1953-1955, $4,050. In eight years Nebraskans have put $8,750 of their own money into permanent development of Arbor Lodge's stately mansion and fine grounds which annually are visited by thousands of the people of this state and other states.

This is not to suggest that Nebraska should embark upon a spending spree to speed up ill-advisedly the permanent development of its state park system. But we do have far too little of appealing beauty as mellow maturity settles upon us. We have been so busy in performing the first tasks first that it is understandable why we have neglected developing the state system in the same aggressive spirit as some of our neighbors. It would be fortunate if the Legislative Council or if any other official or non-official group launched into a study of a sensible, reasonable program of park development of a long-range character. Nebraskans, with their present tax burdens, simply do not have the money to toss around carelessly. Whatever they spend must return 100 cents on the dollar, and in that spirit there are few investments which will bring greater dividends over the next half century than a solid, carefully planned program of park expansion. It would be a happy development if some inspired candidate for the office of governor would devote time and study to the state park system. Once old Ft. Robinson passes into private hands, it will be too late to reclaim it.

Unless there has been a chance since this was written, Uncle Sam still stands ready to give Nebraska Ft. Robinson's land and buildings. That is a very generous gift offer, representing an investment running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. The need for parks cannot be satisfied wholly through local efforts. The older a state becomes, the more mature that it is, and particularly the present trend of modern life suggest that every investment made towards providing more adequate park facilities is sound. They will be used and appreciated.

ters and in the development of Nebraska's public power program, with emphasis upon rural electrification. He held a ranking spot on the Senate Appropriations Committee and he was chairman of the Senate Committee on Committees which determines committee assignments. In those posts it naturally follows that Sen. Butler occupied a vital, powerful role in the Eisenhower administration.

Long association and a deep admiration for the late Sen. Taft, a friendship that developed as a result of congeniality of viewpoint, cast Sen. Butler on Taft's side in the convention of 1952 in Chicago which resulted in the nomination of President Eisenhower. We visited with Sen. Butler several times during the convention. We knew his sympathies and his hopes. But in the same spirit as that of Taft, he accepted the convention results and with the advent of a new Republican administration, made every contribution he could to help it write the record.

Sen. Butler, a man of wealth, was a man also of simple tastes. He was closely affiliated with the affairs of Doane College, of which he was a graduate, chairman of its board of trustees, generous in his gifts and benefactions to Doane. He was active in the Rotary and in a great many other organizations. He had been in frail health, but this did not stop him from participating in the heavy burdens which fell upon him.

His death came, we believe, as he would have wanted it—at the close of a day of intense debate on the tax bill now pending in Congress. Basically an outstanding business man, Sen. Butler also was a shrewd politician. He kept his finger upon the thought of people in Nebraska and on many occasions demonstrated that he knew what those at the grass roots were talking about.

The measure of his contribution to the Republican party in Nebraska will not be observable for many months. He devoted the closing years of his life to his party, not solely as an office seeker but always in genuine spirit a hard-working Republican, the hewer of wood and the bearer of water, a staunch partisan in the truest sense.

Sen. Butler will be sorely missed by his party colleagues in the state.

Hiss' Pension

The government hasn't yet decided whether to pay a pension to Alger Hiss—its former employee who is serving time after playing footsie with Communism.

Before the law caught up with him Hiss was posing as a loyal American and spending his years in sensitive government posts and, of course, accumulating credits and making contributions to the government's retirement program.

Mr. Hiss's loyalty sputtered, but the government's retirement program did not. He is in prison and the trial that he was a first class subversive—guilty of far more than the court's limited charges. Since he will inevitably earn his freedom there is the lingering question of his rights to his pension.

Morally he hasn't got much of a case. There would be no injustice if the government refunded his actual personal contributions, telling him beyond that to go peddle his papers. A military officer forfeits all pay and allowances when he is convicted of a serious crime.

Unfortunately the retirement law was not written as a criminal statute and did not contemplate perjurers of a subversive bent. But there are precedents in private contracts and in principle which justify a realistic interpretation of the law in the Hiss case.

It would be much nicer if the government could continue in the old pattern of trusting its employees, but in the realities of the times and with the Hiss experience as a guide it had better get to the job of tightening up an escape clause in its retirement program so the subject won't have to be debated any more.

Germany Libra

Chancellor Adenauer has reminded the West the German occupation is in its ninth year and that that is long enough.

There is a double sense to his statement. West Germany has been orderly, co-operative and progressive. It has proved that it can be trusted to go it alone. Then Adenauer knows that no matter how satisfactory his regime has been there comes a time when his people begin to view his leadership as less one of emerging from a kept state into one of prolonging it. When that time arrives he cannot expect to remain at the helm.

German freedom is a ripened question. It should not be further delayed. Had EDC been accepted by France and Italy a rearmament Germany would now be a full fledged ally, a rallying force for East Germany and a pillar in the European bastion against Communism. It may be that Adenauer's timely reminder of German will at this time will serve to end the European faltering and in the end achieve a unity that diplomacy has not won.

GOP Mixup Gives Plums To Wrong Men

WASHINGTON—Juiciest, most tempting place in the federal government is generally considered the International Joint Commission which handles waterway problems between Canada and the United States, also the International Boundary Commission between Canada and the United States.

Duties are not arduous, the boundary isn't bothered by wars, members of the commissions draw $10,000 a year, and get a cool, expense-paid summer trip to Canada every year.

However, the Republican National Committee, eying these job plums, got its political wires so badly crossed that a Chicago lawyer was appointed to the wrong commission, then the governor of Idaho was named prematurely to the job the lawyer was supposed to get.

The resulting mixup violated: 1. A 1909 treaty with Canada; 2. A presidential order dating back to 1873.

It all began when Republican mouths started watering for the patronage plum held by octogenarian A. C. Stanley, ex-senator from Kentucky, who was chairman of the International Joint Commission for the past 20 years.

Illinois' curly-haired Sen. Everett Dirksen, a backstage power at the GOP National Committee, proposed Chicago lawyer Samuel Golan for the post.

At this point, the committee got its wires crossed and sent Golan's name to the White House to be named, not to the International Joint Commission, but the International Boundary Commission. This is a different commission altogether, having to do, not with Canadian-U. S. rivers and waterways, but marking and maintaining the Canadian-U. S. boundary.

Not only did the GOP committee pick the wrong commission, but there was no vacancy. Furthermore, a 1909 treaty with Canada specified that the post must go to a qualified engineer. A Chicago lawyer wouldn't do.

The White House solved the first problem by firing Chairman John Ulinski and creating a vacancy. Ulinski promptly went home to Buffalo, N. Y., took over Democrat Steven Pankow's campaign for mayor and roundly defeated the Republican candidate.

Meanwhile, the White House simply ignored the 1909 treaty and appointed lawyer Golan to fill the engineering post—regardless of the treaty. All this meanwhile upset New York GOP politicians who had their eye on Ulinski's job on the boundary commission until Golan of Chicago slid into it by mistake.

By this time, old Sen. Stanley was forewarned that the Republicans were after his job on the joint commission. Snorting defiance, he drew up a legal brief, claiming he couldn't be fired from this quasi-judicial post.

Undismayed, a host of candidates, including former Sens. Owen Brewster of Maine and Ray Willis of Indiana, were running hard for the job. The one who came out on top was Idaho's Gov. Len Jordan.

Under Idaho law, Jordan couldn't succeed himself as governor and was casting about for a new job. There was always the risk that he might try for the Senate, challenging Sen. Henry Dworshak in the GOP primary.

This spurred Dworshak into hustling up another job for the governor, and the joint commission chairmanship looked promising. To make it even more attractive, the White House upped the pay from $10,600, which the Democrats had paid, to $13,500.

After considerable backstage wire-tugging, Gov. Jordan won the appointment last week. He was told that he could finish his term as governor and hold down the joint commission chairmanship at the same time.

Then somebody brought up the 1873 order, which prohibits a federal official from holding a state position simultaneously. Since President Grant had signed the original order, it was argued, there was no reason why President Eisenhower couldn't revoke it.

It was pointed out, however, that like's own treasury department had cited this same 1873 order recently to deny a customs collector appointment to Herman Grannis—on the grounds he was serving as an unpaid member of the New York State Harness Racing Commission.

The White House finally got around its embarrassment by removing Gov. Jordan from the joint commission 24 hours after he was installed and holding the post open for him for another six months until his term as governor expires.

Note—Meanwhile, the 1909 treaty with Canada continues to be violated by the continued appointment of Lawyer Golan on the International Boundary Commission.

JUNIOR MISS OF CONGRESS

One of the youngest persons ever to occupy a seat in Congress sat beside her grandmother on the floor of the House of Representatives the other day. She was Miss Judy Harden, aged eight, granddaughter of the pleasant Congresswoman from Indiana, Mrs. Cecil Harden.

Judy, a refreshing sight in the drab halls of Congress, followed the congressional debate with interest, though she did wipe the sleep out of her eyes during an old-fashioned harangue by orator Martin Dies of Texas.

Congress was pushing through legislation at the usual pace when the heat is heavy in Washington and the legislators itch for the tall grass of the home districts. But despite the rush, the solons couldn't help but notice the little girl in the beige dress with cuffed sleeves and black sash sitting demurely beside the representative from Indiana.

Charlie Halleck, efficient leader of the Eisenhower forces, also from Indiana, marched past the two ladies, his mind on other things; then, noticing the couple, marched back to present himself. Judy extended her hand as a queen holding court.

Then Javits of New York walked by, stopped to chat with the youngest "member." Once Judy picked up a pile of her grandmother's papers almost as if she was about to make a speech, then put them down and continued listening to the drone of debate by which American laws are passed.

In Step With The Sower

The temperature was near the 100 mark when Pat Heaton, Sidney attorney, announced that he would make the race for governor as a Democrat. Attorney General C. S. Beck, mopping a dome as hairless as that of the Sower or Chob Simons, flushed a deep red and almost "blew a fuse" when one of his staff came in and remarked:

"I hear the Democrats are really going to turn the heat on us this year."

But he threatened to lock the office door when another visitor innocently inquired, "Is there a Beaver Crossing, Nebraska?"

When he answered, "Yes," came the crusher:

"How long do you think it will take it?"

June weather apparently was ideal for corn in Nebraska.

The modest Col. C. J. Sanders, commander of the State Safety Patrol, was being congratulated on the record made in June in reducing highway fatalities. Always anxious to give credit where credit is due, the patrol chief explained:

"The boys on the road are doing a wonderful job, but they are getting valuable help from Flying Farmers."

He went on to explain that after the patrol nabbed a number of speeders by clocking them from airplanes and then radioing to patrolmen on the highway to make arrests, the Flying Farmers joined in the fun.

While making trips east by air or returning home, they have enjoyed flying along major highways and checking the speed of motorists. The motorist, fearing it is a patrol plane quickly lifts the "heavy foot" and slows down much to the delight of those flying.

"It may save the state several thousand dollars," Col. Sanders says, "because we can rent planes often enough so that speeders won't know whether we are checking or whether it is only a farmer observing them."

At all events, fatalities have been sharply reduced.

Now Thank We All Our God

Now thank we all our God,
With heart and hand and voice,
Who wondrous things hath done,
In whom His world rejoices;
In whom our mothers' arms
Hath blessed us on our way
With countless gifts of love,
And still is ours today.

O may this bounteous God
Thro' all our life be near us,
With ever joyful hearts
And blessed peace to cheer us;
And keep us in His grace,
And guide us when perplexed,
And free us from all ills
In this world and the next.

Here is a hymn which, though it is known and sung by Christians throughout the world, is especially dear to Lutherans.

It appeared in Germany about the time of the close of the Thirty Years' War in a booklet of hymns and tunes published by Johann Cruger, famous seventeenth century choir leader and hymnist.

Cruger wrote its music but the words are those of the Rev. Martin Rinkart who was a printer in Germany during the war and whose verses, it is said, were written to express gratitude for the return of peace. Miss Catherine Winkworth translated the hymn into English; it was published in 1858 in her Lyra Germanica.

Rinkart's ministry was filled with hardship. War and famine tried his courage and the trust of his people. But he never lost faith. Miss Winkworth once said of him in this connection:

"So great were Rinkart's own losses and charities that he had the utmost difficulty in finding food and clothes for his children, and was forced to mortgage his future income for several years. Yet how little his spirit was broken by all these calamities is shown by this hymn and others that he wrote; some, indeed, speaking of his country's sorrows but all breathing the same spirit of unbounded trust and readiness to give thanks."

What's A Million

The boy next door has changed.

He had me worried there for a while, spouting a doctrine of personal greed as regularly as you saw him, like Old Faithful geyser spouts steam. He wanted to make a million dollars, and he wanted to make it fast, no matter who got hurt in the process. He intended to have it before he was 30, he always said, so he wouldn't be too old to enjoy it.

That will give you an idea of the age of the boy next door—old enough to begin making his own living, young enough to think that living is partitioned off into separate cubicles, with only the first two or three labeled "enjoyment."

He was always dreaming up ways to make that quick million, and always coming over to tell me about them. Always, too, it would end with me trying vainly to convince him that happiness is a state of mind, not of the pocketbook. That's a thing the years teach you—it's hard to put into convincing words for somebody else.

Lately, I haven't seen much of the boy next door. He was busy making that first million, I assumed. Then he dropped in, the other evening. Talk drifted around to his plans. He said he was going to school.

"What?" I exclaimed. "I thought you graduated?"

"Oh, this is night school—classes in salesmanship."

"Swell! I'm glad to hear it. But a salesman has got to be awfully good to make a million dollars very quickly."

He grinned a little sheepishly, recognizing the jibe. "Well," he said, "there's a darn good living in real estate, especially if you know details like valuations and property management, and such. After a few years, if a guy works hard, there's no reason why he shouldn't be able to have his own office, with a little insurance business on the side."

I didn't say anything more about the million dollars after that, and neither did he, but after while I couldn't resist asking a question.

"Do you think you'll be happy, buckling down to a long haul like that?"

"I think so," he said, so seriously that I abandoned any idea of ribbing him further. "There'll be a lot of satisfaction in building up something strong and solid, with a good future in it."

Pretty soon he went home, leaving me no wiser than before. I puzzled about the change that had come so quickly. Then I got the answer. His mother came over, on some neighborly errand. We gossiped a while, and as the conversation does with mothers, it got around to her son.

"We're so pleased," she said. "He's found the nicest girl. I think it's really serious. This time. They're been dating steadily for two months—"

Right there, I stopped wondering why the boy next door had changed so much. I should have known, anyway. The French have a phrase for it, "Cherchez la femme!"

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Miles W. Johnson has filed as a Republican candidate in the August primary for the nomination for county attorney, and says that if nominated and elected, he will devote his full time to the business of the county attorney's office and do no private law practicing.

The people ought to ponder over his statement and give him their votes. There isn't any good reason for a county attorney to have a private law practice, and his election would eliminate the hiring of one deputy county attorney and save the salary of that deputy.

Selection Of Judges

North Loup, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The State Bar Association wants all state judges to be selected by the association and appointed by the governor. They call this the Missouri plan. The further you take such things from the voter, the sooner we lose our freedom. It must be remembered that many lawyers ought to be in other occupations and would more likely succeed than as lawyers. This plan would rob the voter of his right to choose his own candidate.

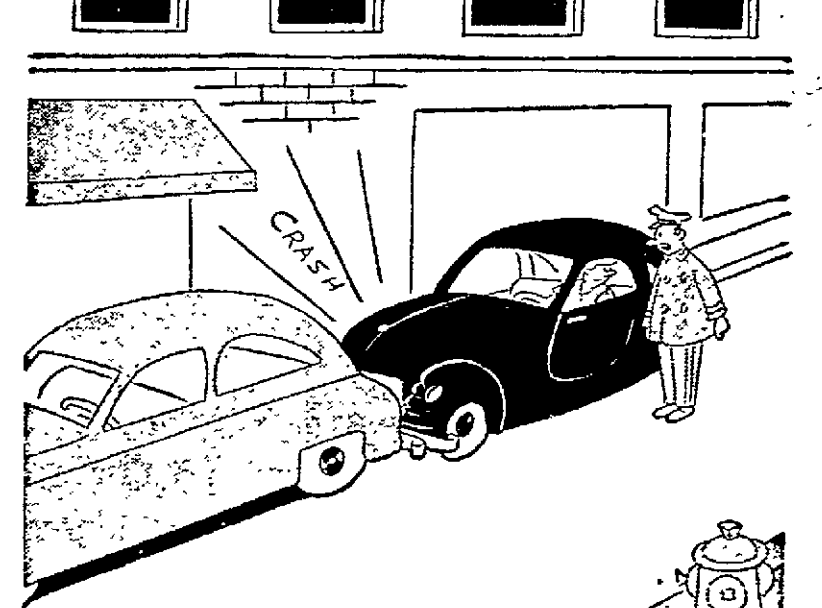

This Missouri plan can be more rightly called the dictator plan. We deplore Russia's government on the one hand and endorse her tactics on the other. Everyone is appointed in Russia. Now the World Herald calls it the merit plan to fool the people, but it won't succeed by this ruse.

Gov. Crosby wants the assessors appointed—another trick to deprive us of our franchise. We still have taxation but what is happening to our representation in a one-house legislature? It is a lobbyist's paradise.

Senator Butler's Death

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Nebraska suffers another grievous loss in the death of its ranking senior senator, Hugh Butler of Omaha. He was a kindly, neighborly man with a great capacity for friendship, a trait that those who tried to unseat him in his political career quickly discovered. He was a stabilizing force at all times in the solidly Republican delegation, a consistent conservative but first and last a loyal, devoted party worker.

Forgotten now with the Republican return to power in Washington is the fact that with the late Sen. Kenneth Wherry, Sen. Butler in quiet, effective spirit never permitted despair to handicap him in his efforts to revive his party during the early lush days of the New Deal. He contributed generously of his time and energy to holding the lines. And it can be said perhaps that through his efforts and the efforts of Sen. Wherry, then serving as chairman of the Republican state committee, Nebraska was one of the first states to be returned to the Republican column in the Midwest.

A staunch friend of the late Sen. Bob Taft whom Sen. Butler supported, to borrow a title conferred upon Mr. Taft in a national sense, Sen. Butler was "Mr. Republican" in Nebraska.

Providence has dealt rather unkindly with Republican leadership in this state. First came the death of Sen. Wherry, then Sen. Dwight Griswold, and now Sen. Butler. And in the House, Nebraskans lost the late Karl Stefan of the Third Nebraska District, dean of Nebraska's House delegation. In terms of seniority, which determines committee assignment, it is a heavy blow. Sen. Butler was chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, an assignment of special importance to Nebraska with the state's vital interest in irrigation mat-

It would be much nicer if the government could continue in the old pattern of trusting its employees, but in the realities of the times and with the Hiss experience as a guide it had better get to the job of tightening up an escape clause in its retirement program so the subject won't have to be debated any more.

Germany Libra

Chancellor Adenauer has reminded the West the German occupation is in its ninth year and that that is long enough.

There is a double sense to his statement. West Germany has been orderly, co-operative and progressive. It has proved that it can be trusted to go it alone. Then Adenauer knows that no matter how satisfactory his regime has been there comes a time when his people begin to view his leadership as less one of emerging from a kept state into one of prolonging it. When that time arrives he cannot expect to remain at the helm.

German freedom is a ripened question. It should not be further delayed. Had EDC been accepted by France and Italy a reformed Germany would now be a full fledged ally, a rallying force for East Germany and a pillar in the European bastion against Communism. It may be that Adenauer's timely reminder of German will at this time will serve to end the European faltering and in the end achieve a unity that diplomacy has not won.

GOP Mixup Gives Plums To Wrong Men

WASHINGTON—Juiciest nesting place in the federal government is generally considered the International Joint Commission which handles waterway problems between Canada and the United States, also the International Boundary Commission between Canada and the United States.

Duties are not arduous, the boundary isn't bothered by wars, members of the commissions draw $10,000 a year, and get a cool, expense-paid summer trip to Canada every year.

However, the Republican National Committee, eyeing these job plums, got its political wires so badly crossed that a Chicago lawyer was appointed to the wrong commission, then the governor of Idaho was named prematurely to the job the lawyer was supposed to get.

The resulting mixup violated: 1, a 1909 treaty with Canada; 2, a presidential order dating back to 1873.

It all began when Republican mouths started watering for the patronage plum held by octogenarian A. O. Stanley, ex-senator from Kentucky, who was chairman of the International Joint Commission for the past 20 years.

Illinois' curly-haired Sen. Everett Dirksen, a backstage power at the GOP National Committee, proposed Chicago lawyer Samuel Golan for the post.

At this point, the committee got its first wire crossed and sent Golan's name to the White House to be named, not to the International Joint Commission, but the International Boundary Commission. This is a different commission altogether, having to do, not with Canadian-U. S. rivers and waterways, but marking and maintaining the Canadian-U. S. boundary.

Not only did the GOP committee pick the wrong commission, but there was no vacancy. Furthermore, a 1909 treaty with Canada specified that the post must go to a qualified engineer. A Chicago lawyer wouldn't do.

The White House solved the first problem by firing Chairman John Ulinski and creating a vacancy. Ulinski promptly went home to Buffalo, N. Y., took over Democrat Steven Pankow's campaign for mayor and roundly defeated the Republican candidate.

Meanwhile, the White House simply ignored the 1909 treaty and appointed lawyer Golan to fill the engineering post—regardless of the treaty. Meanwhile upset New York GOP politicians who had their eye on Ulinski's job on the boundary commission until Golan of Chicago slid into it by mistake.

By this time, old Sen. Stanley was forewarned that the Republicans were after his job on the joint commission. Snorting defiance, he drew up a legal brief, claiming he couldn't be fired from this quasi-judicial post.

Undismayed, a host of candidates, including former Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine and Ray Willis of Indiana, were running hard for the job. The one who came out on top was Idaho's Gov. Len Jordan.

Under Idaho law, Jordan couldn't succeed himself as governor and was casting about for a new job. There was always the risk that he might try for the Senate, challenging Sen. Henry Dworshak in the GOP primary.

This spurred Dworshak into hustling up another job for the governor, and the joint commission chairmanship looked promising. To make it even more attractive, the White House upped the pay from $10,600, which the Democrats had paid, to $13,500.

After considerable backstage wire-tugging, Gov. Jordan won the appointment last week. He was told that he could finish his term as governor and hold down the joint commission chairmanship at the same time.

Then somebody brought up the 1873 order, which prohibits a federal official from holding a state position simultaneously. Since President Grant had signed the original order, it was argued, there was no reason why President Eisenhower couldn't revoke it.

It was pointed out, however, that the own treasury department had cited this same 1873 order recently to deny a customs collector appointment to Herman Grannis—on the grounds he was serving as an unpaid member of the New York State Harness Racing Commission.

The White House finally got around its embarrassment by removing Gov. Jordan from the joint commission 24 hours after he was installed and holding the post open for him for another six months until his term as governor expires.

Note—Meanwhile, the 1909 treaty with Canada continues to be violated by the continued appointment of Lawyer Golan on the International Boundary Commission.

JUNIOR MISS OF CONGRESS

One of the youngest persons ever to occupy a seat in Congress sat beside her grandmother on the floor of the House of Representatives the other day. She was Miss Judy Harden, aged eight, granddaughter of the pleasant Congresswoman from Indiana, Mrs. Cecil Harden.

Judy, a refreshing sight in the drab halls of Congress, followed the congressional debate with interest, though she did wipe the sleep out of her eyes during an old-fashioned harangue by orator Martin Dies of Texas.

Congress was pushing through legislation at the usual pace when the heat is heavy in Washington and the legislators itch for the tall grass of the home districts. But despite the rush, the solons couldn't help but notice the little girl in the beige dress with puffed sleeves and black sash sitting demurely beside the representative from Indiana.

Charlie Halleck, efficient leader of the Eisenhower forces, also from Indiana, marched past the two ladies, his mind on other things; then, noticing the couple, marched back to present himself. Judy extended her hand as a queen holding court.

Then Javits of New York walked by, stopped to chat with the youngest "member." Once Judy picked up a pile of her grandmother's papers almost as if she was about to make a speech, then put them down and continued listening to the drone of debate by which American laws are passed.

ARCH DONOVAN

In Step With The Sower

The temperature was near the 100 mark when Pat Heaton, Sidney attorney, announced that he would make the race for governor as a Democrat. Attorney General C. S. Beck, moping in a dome as hairless as that of the Sower or Chief Justice Bob Simmons, flushed a deep red and almost "blew a fuse" when one of his staff came in and remarked:

"I hear the Democrats are really going to turn the heat on us this year!"

But he threatened to lock the office door when another visitor inquired, "Is there a Beaver Crossing, Nebraska?"

When he answered, "Yes," came the crusher: "How long do you think it will take it?"

June weather apparently was ideal for corn in Nebraska.

The modest Col. C. J. Sanders, commander of the State Safety Patrol, was being congratulated on the record made in June in reducing highway fatalities. Always anxious to give credit where credit is due, the patrol chief explained:

"The boys on the road are doing a wonderful job, but they are getting valuable help from Flying Farmers."

He went on to explain that after the patrol nabbed number speeders by clocking them from airplanes and then radioing to patrolmen on the highway to make arrests, the Flying Farmers joined in the fun.

While making trips east by air or returning home, they have enjoyed flying along major highways and checking the speed of motorists. The motorist fearing it is a patrol plane quickly lifts the "heavy foot" and slows down much to the delight of those flying.

"It may save the state several thousand dollars," Col. Sanders says, "because we can rent planes often enough so that speeders won't know whether we are checking or whether it is only a farmer observing them."

At all events, fatalities have been sharply reduced.

Gov. Robert Crosby has decreed a long Fourth of July holiday for state employees which will start on Saturday and com-

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Now Thank We All Our God

Now thank we all our God,
With heart and hand and voice,
Who wondrous things hath done,
In whom His world rejoices;
Who from our mothers' arms
Has blessed us on our way
With countless gifts of love,
And still is ours today.

O may this bounteous God
Thro' all our life be near us,
With ever joyful hearts
And blessed peace to cheer us;
And keep us in His grace,
And guide us when perplexed,
And free us from all ills
In this world and the next.

By HORACE B. POWELL

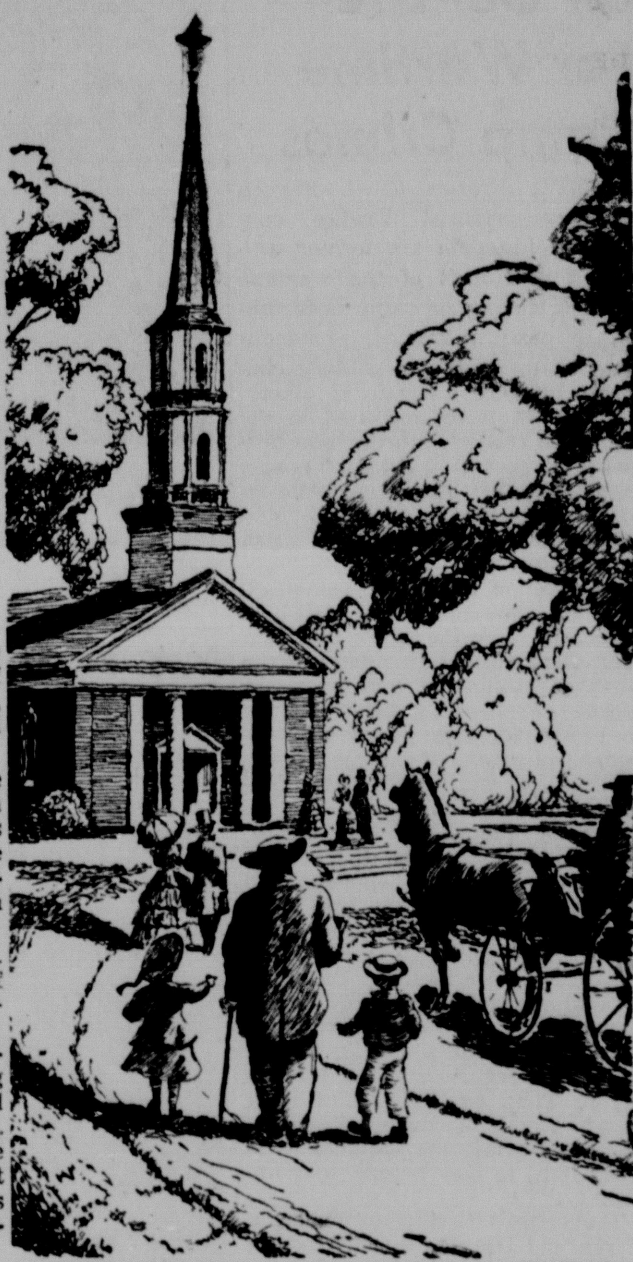

Here is a hymn which, though it is known and sung by Christians throughout the world, is especially dear to Lutherans.

It appeared in Germany about the time of the close of the Thirty Years' War in a booklet of hymns and tunes published by Johann Cruger, famous seventeenth century choir leader and hymnist.

Cruger wrote its music but the words are those of the Rev. Martin Rinkart who was a printer in Germany during the war and whose verses, it is said, were written to express gratitude for the return of peace. Miss Catherine Winkworth translated the hymn into English; it was published in 1858 in her Lyra Germanica.

Rinkart's ministry was filled with hardship. War and famine tried his courage and the trust of his people. But he never lost faith. Miss Winkworth once said of him in this connection:

"So great were Rinkart's own losses and charities that he had the utmost difficulty in finding food and clothes for his children, and was forced to mortgage his future income for several years. Yet how little his spirit was broken by all these calamities is shown by this hymn and others that he wrote; some, indeed, speaking of his country's sorrows but all breathing the same spirit of unbounded trust and readiness to give thanks."

What's A Million

The boy next door has changed.

He had me worried there for a while, spouting a doctrine of personal greed as regularly as you saw him, like Old Faithful geyser spouts steam. He wanted to make a million dollars, and he wanted to make it fast, no matter who got hurt in the process. He intended to have it before he was 30, he always said, so he wouldn't be too old to enjoy it.

That will give you an idea of the age of the boy next door—old enough to begin making his own living, young enough to think that living is partitioned off into separate cubicles, with only the first two or three labeled "enjoyment."

He was always dreaming up ways to make that quick million, and always coming over to tell me about them. Always, too, it would end with me trying vainly to convince him that happiness is a state of mind, not of the pocketbook. That's a thing the years teach you—it's hard to put into convincing words for somebody else.

Lately, I haven't seen much of the boy next door. He was busy making that first million, I assumed. Then he dropped in, the other evening. Talk drifted around to his plans. He said he was going to school.

"What?" I exclaimed. "I thought you graduated?"

"Oh, this is night school—classes in salesmanship."

"Swell! I'm glad to hear it. But a salesman has got to be awfully good to make a million dollars very quickly."

He grinned a little sheepishly, recognizing the jibe. "Well," he said, "there's a darn good living in real estate, especially if you know details like valuations and property management, and such. After a few years, if a guy works hard, there's no reason why he shouldn't be able to have his own office, with a little insurance business on the side."

I didn't say anything more about the million dollars after that, and neither did he, but after while I couldn't resist asking a question.

"Do you think you'll be happy, buckling down to a long haul like that?"

"I think so," he said, so seriously that I abandoned any idea of ribbing him further. "There'll be a lot of satisfaction in building up something strong and solid, with a good future in it."

Pretty soon he went home, leaving me no wiser than before. I puzzled about the change that had come so quickly. Then I got the answer. His mother came over, on some neighborly errand. We gossiped a while, and as the conversation does with mothers, it got around to her son.

"We're so pleased," she said. "He's found the nicest girl—I think it's really serious, this time. They've been dating steadily for two months."

Right there, I stopped wondering why the boy next door had changed so much. I should have known, anyway. The French have a phrase for it, "Cherchez la femme!"

Private Law Practice

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Miles W. Johnston has filed as a Republican candidate in the August primary for the nomination for county attorney, and says that if nominated and elected, he will devote his full time to the business of the county attorney's office and do no private law practicing.

The people ought to ponder over his statement and give him their votes. There isn't any good reason for a county attorney to have a private law practice, and his election would eliminate the hiring of one deputy county attorney and save the salary of that deputy.

Selection Of Judges

North Loup, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The State Bar Association wants all state judges to be selected by the association and appointed by the governor. They call this the Missouri plan. The further you take such things from the voter, the sooner we lose our freedom. We still have taxation but what is happening to our representation in a one-house legislature? It is a lobbyist's paradise.

World Witnessing Break In Effective U.S. Government—Adlai

Stevenson Blasts At 'Idea Theft'

DENVER (INS)—Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for President in 1952, charged in Denver the world is witnessing a "practical breakdown of effective government in Washington."

Stevenson stopped in Denver en route to Alaska and spoke before 650 Colorado Democrats at a 86-a-plate luncheon of halibut, peas and boiled potatoes.

The former Illinois governor urged election of a Democratic Congress in November to give the nation "a responsible government."

Stevenson also intimated, in a bantering exchange preceding his talk, that he might be a presidential candidate in 1956.

National Committeewoman Marguerite Thompson of Boulder concluded her introductory remarks by expressing hope the party would welcome "President Stevenson" back to Colorado in the future.

Biting Wit

Said Stevenson, "I am not a candidate—but may I hope you won't lose your manuscript."

Gov. Stevenson, in a 30-minute speech, unleashed the biting wit for which he was noted during the campaign two years ago. Special targets for his verbal rapier included the McCarthy-Stevens hearing; the "disunity and lack of leadership" in the Republican Party; GOP "theft of Democratic ideas," and Vice President Richard Nixon.

He described Nixon as a candidate for the title of "the world's most irresponsible exalted statesman."

The long McCarthy-Stevens hearing was characterized by Stevenson as "a squalling, disgraceful spectacle, which distracted the nation from other affairs more important, and which trailed at last to an impotent conclusion."

'Obvious Failure'

He asserted repeatedly that the administration's "obvious failure" to heal the breach in its own ranks demonstrated the party's "division, disorder and indecision."

"Any party which cannot govern itself," said Stevenson, "cannot govern the nation."

Stevenson referred to Republican campaign promises as "the most perishable commodity in the world," and said: "We should be able to copyright Democratic ideas. We could collect enough damages from the Republicans to support the Democratic Party."

The Republicans main achievement thus far, according to Stevenson consists of "the lowest farm prices and the highest living costs in history—simultaneously."

'Weakness Policy' Hit By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon charged Friday that the Truman administration left behind a foreign "policy of weakness, a policy of surrender of principle at the conference table."

He said that Democratic planners "didn't understand... what the Communist threat really was," and "failed to recognize that it was a world trap."

The Eisenhower administration, he said, has "adopted a policy of strength—one in which our people go to the conference table... determined not to surrender our principles but to make them prevail."

Milwaukee Speech

Democratic congressmen have strongly criticized him for charging at Milwaukee Saturday night that the Truman-Acheson policies lost China and led to the present Asian crisis. Democrats said a bipartisan foreign policy would be endangered if Eisenhower administration men continue to make such charges.

Nixon told Keating also:

1. That the recent Eisenhower-Churchill conference "inevitably can't help but bring better understanding between our nations and it cannot help in the long run but mean we will be able to present a more united front to our common enemy."

2. "You can break the Communist conspiracy in the United States," if Congress approved the President's proposal to legalize wire-tapped evidence and to grant immunity to persons who might otherwise withhold evidence on Communist activities on the ground of possible self-incrimination.

New Charge

The vice president named no names in his new charge that the "previous administration" lost 600 million people to communism.

Those responsible for the previous policy, he said, "didn't understand during the times they were making that policy what the Communist threat really was."

They failed to recognize that communism was just as dangerous and just as great a threat to the United States in Asia or South America, for that matter, or in the United States, as in Europe."

Mrs. Luce Returns

NEW YORK (INS)—Clare Booth Luce, U. S. ambassador to Italy, arrived Friday at Idlewild Airport in New York and declared that it is impossible to predict the kind of showing the Communists will make in Italy's next general election. Mrs. Luce left for her home in Ridgefield, Conn., for a brief rest before reporting to the State Department next week.

Supreme Court Reverses Ruling Against Wunderlich

The Nebraska Supreme Court has reversed a $70,000 judgment against the Wunderlich Contracting Company of Omaha, holding the defendant firm's motion for a directed verdict should have been sustained in Lancaster District Court.

Ben L. and Stanley Seling of Indianapolis, Ind., doing business as the Esse Sales Service and Engineering and Esse Radio Co., were awarded in May, 1953, a $70,000 judgment in their $350,000 suit for alleged breach of contract against the Wunderlich firm.

The District Court suit involved an alleged contract for the sale of radar scopes and radio altimeters salvaged from World War II surplus aircraft by the Wunderlich company.

The Selig brothers sought damages for lost profits and business prestige by reason of the alleged failure of the defendant firm to deliver under the original contract.

Wunderlich contended the original contract, upon which the Selig brothers attempted to rely in the suit, had been modified by a later agreement, from which the electronic items in controversy had been stricken.

Defendant alleged a modified agreement of Feb. 20, 1947, was entered because plaintiff's check in consideration of a Jan. 15, 1947, agreement was "protested" when presented at a bank for payment. The original check was later honored.

The high court noted "A compromise will not be disturbed for mistake where the means of knowledge were accessible and the complaining party failed to exercise reasonable diligence to inform himself."

In an opinion written by Chief Justice Robert Simmons, the court found an executed compromise and settlement of an agreement between parties based on valuable consideration.

Defendant's motion for a judgment notwithstanding the verdict should have been sustained, the court said. Case was remanded with directions to sustain defendant's motion for judgment.

Judge E. B. Chappell dissented from the opinion.

Demo Attorney Filing Returned As Too Late

Filing of Henry Payne, Omaha, as a Democratic candidate for attorney general, did not arrive at the office of the secretary of state until Friday morning and was returned as too late for acceptance. The deadline for filings was Thursday.

Lost And Found's Cart Before Hoss

The lost and found department at the Police Department was working at full steam, in fact ahead of itself, when an item was reported found before it was reported lost.

The item was a wallet belonging to Fern Williamson of 115 No. 33rd. She reported the wallet taken from her desk in the Continental Building.

The wallet was found by Patrolman William Johnson. He said the papers were intact, but the money had been removed.

World Witnessing Break In Effective U.S. Government—Adlai

Stevenson Blasts At 'Idea Theft'

DENVER (INS)—Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for President in 1952, charged in Denver the world is witnessing a "practical breakdown of effective government in Washington."

Stevenson stopped in Denver en route to Alaska and spoke before 650 Colorado Democrats at a $6-a-plate luncheon of halibut, peas and boiled potatoes.

The former Illinois governor urged election of a Democratic Congress in November to give the nation "a responsible government."

Stevenson also intimated, in a bantering exchange preceding his talk, that he might be a presidential candidate in 1956.

National Committeewoman Marguerite Thompson of Boulder concluded her introductory remarks by expressing hope the party would welcome "President Stevenson" back to Colorado in the future.

Biting Wit

Said Stevenson, "I am not a candidate—but may I hope you won't lose your manuscript."

Gov. Stevenson, in a 30-minute speech, unleashed the biting wit for which he was noted during the campaign two years ago. Special targets for his verbal rapier included the McCarthy-Stevens hearing; the "disunity" and lack of leadership in the Republican Party; GOP "theft of Democratic ideas," and Vice President Richard Nixon.

He described Nixon as a candidate for the title of "the world's most irresponsible exalted statesman."

The long McCarthy-Stevens hearing was characterized by Stevenson as "a squalling, disgraceful spectacle, which distracted the nation from other affairs more important, and which trailed at last to an impotent conclusion."

'Obvious Failure'

He asserted repeatedly that the administration's "obvious failure" to heal the breach in its own ranks demonstrated the party's "division, disorder and indecision."

"Any party which cannot govern itself," said Stevenson, "cannot govern the nation."

Stevenson referred to Republican campaign promises as "the most perishable commodity in the world," and said: "We should be able to copyright Democratic ideas. We could collect enough damages from the Republicans to support the Democratic Party."

The Republicans main achievement thus far, according to Stevenson consists of "the lowest farm prices and the highest living costs in history—simultaneously."

'Weakness Policy' Hit By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon charged Friday that the Truman administration left behind a foreign "policy of weakness, a policy of surrender of principle at the conference table."

He said that Democratic planners "didn't understand... what the Communist threat really was" and "failed to recognize that it was a world trap."

The Eisenhower administration, he said, had "adopted a policy of strength—one in which our people go to the conference table... determined not to surrender our principles but to make them prevail."

The vice president made his second blast at Democratic planning within a week during a television interview with Rep. Keating (R-NY) for stations in Rochester (WHAM-TV) and Buffalo, N.Y. (WBBM-TV).

Milwaukee Speech

Democratic congressmen have strongly criticized him for charging at Milwaukee Saturday night that the Truman-Acheson policies lost China and led to the present Asian crisis. Democrats said a bipartisan foreign policy would be endangered if Eisenhower administration men continue to make such charges.

Nixon told Keating also:

1. That the recent Eisenhower-Churchill conference "inevitably cannot help but bring better understanding between our nations and it cannot help in the long run but mean we will be able to present a more united front to our common enemy."

2. "You can break the Communist conspiracy in the United States," if Congress approved the President's proposal to legalize wire-tapped evidence and to grant immunity to persons who might otherwise withhold evidence on Communist activities on the ground of possible self-incrimination.

New Charge

The vice president named no names in his new charge that the "previous administration" lost 600 million people to communism. Those responsible for the previous policy, he said, "didn't understand during the times they were making that policy what the Communist threat really was."

They failed to recognize that communism was just as dangerous and just as great a threat to the United States in Asia, or South America, for that matter, or in the United States, as in Europe."

Mrs. Luce Returns

NEW YORK (INS)—Clare Booth Luce, U. S. ambassador to Italy, arrived Friday at Idlewild Airport in New York and declared that it is impossible to predict the kind of showing the Communists will make in Italy's next general election. Mrs. Luce left for her home in Ridgefield, Conn., for a brief rest before reporting to the State Department next week.

Wunderlich contended the original contract, upon which the Selig brothers attempted to rely in the suit, had been modified by a later agreement, from which the electronic items in controversy had been stricken.

Defendant alleged a modified agreement of Feb. 20, 1947, was entered because plaintiff's check in consideration of a Jan. 15, 1947, agreement was "protested" when presented at a bank for payment. The original check was later honored.

Supreme Court Reverses Ruling Against Wunderlich

The Nebraska Supreme Court has reversed a $70,000 judgment against the Wunderlich Contracting Company of Omaha, holding the defendant firm's motion for a directed verdict should have been sustained in Lancaster District Court.

Ben L. and Stanley Selig of Indianapolis, Ind., doing business as the Esco Sales Service and Engineering and Esco Radio Co., were awarded in May, 1953, a $70,000 judgment in their $350,000 suit for alleged breach of contract against the Wunderlich firm.

The District Court suit involved an alleged contract for the sale of radar scopes and radio altimeters salvaged from World War II surplus aircraft by the Wunderlich company.

The Selig brothers sought damages for lost profits and business prestige by reason of the alleged failure of the defendant firm to deliver under the original contract.

Wunderlich contended the original contract, upon which the Selig brothers attempted to rely in the suit, had been modified by a later agreement, from which the electronic items in controversy had been stricken.

Defendant alleged a modified agreement of Feb. 20, 1947, was entered because plaintiff's check in consideration of a Jan. 15, 1947, agreement was "protested" when presented at a bank for payment. The original check was later honored.

The high court noted "A compromise will not be disturbed for mistake where the means of knowledge were accessible and the complaining party failed to exercise reasonable diligence to inform himself."

In an opinion written by Chief Justice Robert Simmons, the court found an executed compromise and settlement of an agreement between parties based on valuable consideration.

Defendant's motion for a judgment notwithstanding the verdict should have been sustained, the court said. Case was remanded with directions to sustain defendant's motion for judgment.

Judge E. B. Chappell dissented from the opinion.

Demo Attorney Filing Returned As Too Late

Filing of Henry Payne, Omaha, as a Democratic candidate for attorney general, did not arrive at the office of the secretary of state until Friday morning and was returned as too late for acceptance. The deadline for filings was Thursday.

Lost And Found's Cart Before Hoss

The lost and found department at the Police Department was working at full steam, in fact ahead of itself, when an item was reported found before it was reported lost.

The item was a wallet belonging to Fern Williamson of 115 No. 33rd. She reported the wallet taken from her desk in the Continental Building.

The wallet was found by Patrolman William Johnson. He said the papers were intact, but the money had been removed.

The Hope
for Hopeless Hair
A RESTOR TREATMENT is just what the name implies, it restores hair to a normal condition, for the many ills of hair, excessive dryness, split ends or damage from improper treatment. It is the quick restoration with the help of keratin, a protein found in normal hair which is often lost when the hair is abused or neglected for a month or two.

RESTOR is a solution of elements for hair designed to penetrate the hair shaft and remain there to revive, strengthen and add weight to limp, dull, scanty, bleached, drab and dyed hair. It will definitely change the appearance with just a single treatment to a more natural look and will make it feel like new grown hair, resulting in a defined and lustrous appearance, more satisfactory permanent waves and will prevent fading in tinted hair.

The whole process takes no longer than a few more minutes and helps to make a bygone of unruly hair.

Meyer, and Robert Dale Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wagner, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock, Friday evening, July 2. The Rev. Vance D. President Is 'Distressed' By Death Of Sen. Butler

President Eisenhower described himself as "deeply distressed" over the death of Sen. Hugh Butler.

The President's statement, issued Friday, read, "I am deeply distressed by the sudden passing of Sen. Hugh Butler. He was a conscientious, diligent public servant and devoted himself unflinchingly to the important business before the Senate interior committee, of which he was chairman, and the finance committee, of which he was the second ranking majority member. I share with all others who knew him well the loss of a good friend and a valued associate."

As the Senate convened Friday, Republican Majority Leader Sen. Knowland of California told his colleagues "Every member of the Senate feels a deep personal loss" in the passing of the veteran Nebraska legislator. "Foremost Statesman"

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, minority leader, said Nebraska "has lost one of its foremost statesmen and the Republican party one of its pillars of strength."

Sen. Case (R-SD) said Butler had the misfortune to lose two sons and that Butler and his wife, who died in 1940, then decided to do all they could to aid young people.

Case said Butler, who was a wealthy man but who gave little indication of it, had contributed about a half million dollars for scholarships and college buildings.

Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) and Bridges (R-NH) also spoke briefly in praise of Butler.

Congressional members of the Nebraska delegation added their tributes to the memory of Sen. Butler.

Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson:

"Nebraska has lost one of her most distinguished citizens. Sen. Butler was an outstanding business and political figure. It is a source of satisfaction that our long friendship survived a period of political turbulence" (the 1952 primary in which they were opponents.)

National Republican Committeeman Abel Shotwell of Omaha: "Sen. Butler and I were close friends. I think he was one of the outstanding senators of the country. He had great integrity and ability. His death will be a tremendous loss not only to the State of Nebraska but to the nation. It will be very difficult to fill his place."

"I think the nation lost a mighty fine citizen and an honorable public servant," said Bernard Boyle, Omaha, National Democratic committeeman. "Nebraska has lost a distinguished citizen."

Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb): "Sen. Butler would have been one of Nebraska's greatest citizens even had he never held office. He was a good man, a great man."

Rep. A. L. Miller said Butler was a "statesman and a fine Christian gentleman."

"I feel like a big tree has been cut down in my yard and there is a vacancy," he said. "He was one of my best friends and I am going to miss him."

Rep. R. D. Harrison described the senator as "one of the great statesmen from Nebraska."

"Senate Leader"

"He was a recognized leader in the Senate," Harrison said.

"I have known him for a number of years and he was one of my dearest friends. I am going to miss him."

Rep. Roman L. Hruska said Butler's record of "devotion and loyalty to his country has been outstanding."

"He met big issues squarely and without fear," he added, "but he always bore in mind the individual's high place and value in the pattern of life. He has earned the gratitude of all of us for his life of service and generosity."

Former congressman Howard Buffett of Omaha, a long-time Butler supporter, commented, "He will be greatly missed in Nebraska and in the high councils of government in Washington."

CD Quarters Will Transfer To Michigan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Defense Administration headquarters will be moved from here to Percy Jones Army Hospital property in Battle Creek, Mich., Rep. Shafer (R-Mich) said Friday.

Shafer said he was informed of the decision to make the move by Gerald Morgan, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower, and by H. L. Aitken, executive assistant administrator of the agency.

Shafer said the move will be made within 30 to 60 days.

Paul Wagner, assistant to the administrator, will remain in the Washington office when the move is made.

Peterson, a former Nebraska governor, brought Wagner, from South Sioux City, Neb.; Dean Pohlenz of Lincoln, and Aitken of Friend, Neb., into the organization with him.

Aitken and Pohlenz, director of the publications office, will move to Battle Creek.

Grand Island Out The Veterans Hospital at Grand Island, Neb., had also been under consideration as the new site for Civil Defense headquarters. Civil Defense Administrator Peterson toured the hospital several months ago to determine if facilities there would be adequate.

Distribution Of Money Revised In Land Leveling Case

The Nebraska Supreme Court revised a trial court's distribution of money in a Buffalo County case having to do with land leveling at the Kearney municipal airport in 1951.

At issue is $1,512 in payment for the work.

The Supreme Court held that $1,436.41 should go to Richard R. Dutton, and that H. V. Grantham and Sons have a claim for $75.59. The high court reversed the District Court order which listed Grantham and Sons to receive the full amount, and ordered the money re-distributed in accordance with the Supreme Court ruling.

Sub-letting and assigning of the original contract brought about the questions at issue.

Other Supreme Court decisions: Keith County: Kinney Loan & Finance Co., a Colorado corporation, against George Sumner to obtain return of a trailer coach. District Court judgment for Sumner reversed and case remanded for further proceedings.

Stanton County: Myrtle Pestel versus Bernard Pestel: motion for rehearing of divorce action denied.

President Is 'Distressed' By Death Of Sen. Butler

President Eisenhower described himself as "deeply distressed" over the death of Sen. Hugh Butler.

The President's statement, issued Friday, read, "I am deeply distressed by the sudden passing of Sen. Hugh Butler. He was a conscientious, diligent public servant and devoted himself unflinchingly to the important business before the Senate interior committee, of which he was chairman, and the finance committee, of which he was the second ranking majority member. I share with all others who knew him well the loss of a good friend and a valued associate."

As the Senate convened Friday, Republican Majority Leader Sen. Knowland of California told his colleagues "Every member of the Senate feels a deep personal loss" in the passing of the veteran Nebraska legislator.

'Foremost Statesman'
Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, minority leader, said Nebraska "has lost one of its foremost statesmen and the Republican party one of its pillars of strength."

Sen. Case (R-SD) said Butler had the misfortune to lose two sons and that Butler and his wife, who died in 1940, then decided to do all they could to aid young people.

Case said Butler, who was a wealthy man but who gave little indication of it, had contributed about a half million dollars for scholarships and college buildings.

Sens. Morse (Ind.-Ore) and Bridges (R-NH) also spoke briefly in praise of Butler.

Congressional members of the Nebraska delegation added their tributes to the memory of Sen. Butler.

Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson:

"Nebraska has lost one of her most distinguished citizens. Sen. Butler was an outstanding business and political figure. It is a source of satisfaction that our long friendship survived a period of political turbulence" (the 1952 primary in which they were opponents).

National Republican Committeeman Abel Shottwell of Omaha: "Sen. Butler and I were close friends. I think he was one of the outstanding senators of the country. He had great integrity and ability. His death will be a tremendous loss not only to the State of Nebraska but to the nation. It will be very difficult to fill his place."

"I think the nation lost a mighty fine citizen and an honorable public servant," said Bernard Boyle, Omaha, National Democratic committeeman. "Nebraska has lost a distinguished citizen."

Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb): "Sen. Butler would have been one of Nebraska's greatest citizens even had he never held office. He was a good man, a great man."

Rep. A. L. Miller said Butler was a "statesman and a fine Christian gentleman."

"I feel like a big tree has been cut down in my yard and there is a vacancy," he said. "He was one of my best friends and I am going to miss him."

Rep. R. D. Harrison described the senator as "one of the great statesmen from Nebraska."

'Senate Leader'
"He was a recognized leader in the Senate," Harrison said. "I have known him for a number of years and he was one of my dearest friends. I am going to miss him."

Rep. Roman L. Hruska said Butler's record of "devotion and loyalty to his country has been outstanding."

"He met big issues squarely and without fear," he added, "but he always bore in mind the individual's high place and value in the pattern of life. He has earned the gratitude of all of us for his life of service and generosity."

Former congressman Howard Buffett of Omaha, a long-time Butler supporter, commented, "He will be greatly missed in Nebraska and in the high councils of government in Washington."

CD Quarters Will Transfer To Michigan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Defense Administration headquarters will be moved from here to Percy Jones Army Hospital property in Battle Creek, Mich. Rep. Shafer (R-Mich) said Friday.

Shafer said he was informed of the decision to make the move by Gerald Morgan, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower, and by H. L. Aitken, executive assistant administrator of the agency.

Shafer said the move will be made within 30 to 60 days.

Paul Wagner, assistant to the administrator, will remain in the Washington office when the move is made.

Peterson, a former Nebraska governor, brought Wagner, from South Sioux City, Neb.; Dean Pohlenz of Lincoln, and Aitken of Friend, Neb., into the organization with him.

Aitken and Pohlenz director of the publications office, will move to Battle Creek.

Grand Island Out
The Veterans Hospital at Grand Island, Neb., had also been under consideration as the new site for Civil Defense headquarters. Civil Defense Administrator Peterson toured the hospital several months ago to determine if facilities there would be adequate.

Distribution Of Money Revised In Land Leveling Case

The Nebraska Supreme Court revised a trial court's distribution of money in a Buffalo County case having to do with land leveling at the Kearney municipal airport in 1951.

At issue is $1,512 in payment for the work.

The Supreme Court held that $1,436.41 should go to Richard R. Dutton, and that H. V. Grantham and Sons have a claim for $75.59. The high court reversed the District Court order which listed Grantham and Sons to receive the full amount, and ordered the money re-distributed in accordance with the Supreme Court ruling.

Sub-letting and assigning of the original contract brought about the questions at issue.

Other Supreme Court decisions: Keith County: Kinney Loan & Finance Co., a Colorado corporation, against George Sumner to obtain return of a trailer coach, District Court judgment for Sumner reversed and case remanded for further proceedings.

Stanton County: Myrtle Pestel versus Bernard Pestel; motion for rehearing of divorce action denied.

Poultry Judging Day Scheduled At Geneva

GENEVA, Neb.—Fillmore County 4-H members will attend a 4-H poultry judging day at the Koehler Hatchery here next Friday.

According to County Agent I. E. Lindstrom, the training program will be conducted by Glenn Thacker and Paul Clayton, extension poultry specialists at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Republican Valley Harvesting Moves Into High Gear

10 To 52 Bu. Yields For Thayer Co.

By The Associated Press

The wheat harvest was in high gear in the Republican Valley Friday, with one report indicating the valley's harvest was about half complete.

Eighty combines entered the McCook port of entry during a single day this week, and 20 combines were poised in the Imperial-Wauneta area, waiting for Frenchman Valley wheat to reach harvest stage.

First cuttings were reported as far north as Saunders County, with harvests in Buffalo, York and Seward Counties rapidly gaining momentum.

Some black stem rust was reported in the Waco community in York County and in Otoe County. Rust is present in many wheat fields in the Fremont area but is not expected to interfere greatly with grain yields, extension agents from Dodge, Washington and Colfax Counties agreed.

Elevators in the southern part of the state reported that grain was averaging just short of 60 pounds a bushel with moisture varying generally from 10 to 13 per cent. Yields ranged from 10 to 52 bushels in one county, Thayer County.

Moisture Content Low

In the Republican Valley, Cambridge wheat showed 12 per cent moisture and weighed between 54 and 60 pounds. Yields ran from 20 to 25 bushels an acre.

Farther east, at Hebron, new wheat rolled into town at a rate of nearly 50,000 bushels a day. The Thayer County crop tested about 12 per cent moisture with weights around 60 pounds.

In nearby Jefferson County, wheat in the Reynolds area is averaging 20 to 40 bushels an acre and testing 60-61 pounds with 10-11 per cent moisture.

In southeastern Nebraska, M. J. Miller, manager of a Nebraska City elevator, reported that wheat there is unusually dry and weighs from 56 to 60 pounds.

Miller said that his Kansas City office had found more storage space and that wheat would be stored for anyone within trucking distance on the basis of a 75 per cent storage for government loan instead of 50 per cent, as announced earlier.

First York County yields weighed 57-59 pounds a bushel, tested around 11 per cent moisture and yielded, in the Waco area, from 15 to 35 bushels an acre.

At Utica, in Seward County, yields have been fair, with the top report at 30 bushels.

To the Northeast, in Saunders County, the harvest was just getting underway. First reports indicated wheat was weighing around 60 pounds with moisture varying from 10 to 13 per cent.

Early indications in Buffalo County, around Kearney, were for good quality wheat with yields above average.

The first load of wheat at North Platte tested 57 pounds and indicated 25 bushels to the acre.

Much of the dry-land wheat in the North Platte area suffered drought and wind loss and large acreages were plowed under, but the wheat that was saved has made a good showing on spring moisture.

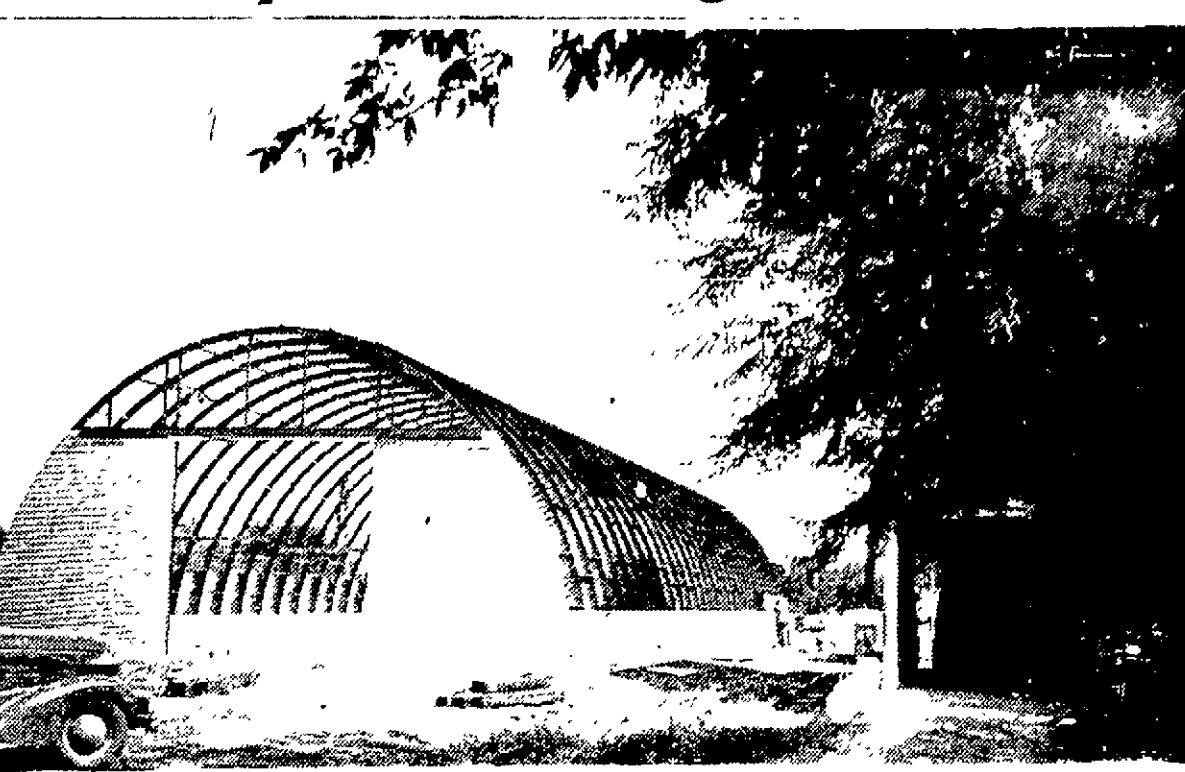

Elevators at Scribner and Blair had not received new grain. Indications were that the harvest in Washington and northern Dodge Counties would not begin until next week.

Attorney Is Named To Serve Martinez

Lincoln Star Special

LEXINGTON, Neb. — District Judge J. J. Nisley of North Platte has appointed W. A. Stewart, Lexington attorney, to represent Ciraco Martinez, who is being held in the county jail awaiting trial in District Court on a first degree murder charge. County Attorney Hugh Stuart reported.

The charge followed the fatal shooting of Adan Sanchez, 22, at the M. M. Kearney farm Saturday, June 19. Investigation in the case is being continued, Stuart said. A date for the trial has not yet been set.

Blue Springs Elevator Facilities Expand

The new type steel quonset buildings are becoming popular for grain storage due to economy and the speed with which they can be built. Construction on the 50,000 bushel building addition to the Farmers Union Elevator at Blue Springs is being rushed. The building is expected to be completed within two weeks. Paul Hughes, elevator manager, said the steel building, which has a concrete floor, will be used for government storage. (Star Staff Photo)

AEC Post Is Granted To Ex-Nebraskan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday nominated Herbert B. Loper of Oxford, Neb., to be chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The White House at the same time announced the President had accepted the resignation of the present chairman, Robert Leabon of Washington, D.C., effective Aug. 1.

Leabon has been chairman since Oct. 20, 1949. He informed the President he expects to continue in private life, in the field of atomic energy.

Loper was born in Norcatur, Kan., Oct. 22, 1896. He graduated in 1918 from the U.S. Military Academy and retired as a major general in June, 1953. He is now a consultant for the AEC.

Total cost of the Holdrege Telephone service improvement program in 1954 and 1955 will total about $490,000, Hall said.

A reorganization of rural telephone lines around Holdrege is now nearing completion.

Lincoln Star Special

Sen. Butler Funeral To Be Tuesday

Day Of Mourning Declared At Omaha

OMAHA (AP) — Funeral services for Senator Hugh Butler, 76-year old Nebraska statesman, will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the First Central Congregational Church in Omaha. The Senator died in a Washington hospital Thursday night.

A brief funeral service will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. EDT at Gawler's Funeral Home in Washington. The body will then be taken by train to Omaha.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California told his colleagues in Washington they may go to the Omaha services by either train or plane. Those going by plane may leave Monday morning and return that night.

Proclamation Issued

Meanwhile, Omaha Mayor John Rosenblatt declared Saturday, July 3, a day of mourning in the city of Omaha for the Senator.

His proclamation said: "To respect and honor the memory of our beloved fellow citizen, Sen. Hugh A. Butler, I, John Rosenblatt, mayor of the city of Omaha, do hereby declare Saturday, July 3, 1954, a day of mourning in the city of Omaha, request all flags be flown at half staff, and recommend to all who engage in public work that day and the Sunday following to make an appropriate observance, each according to the rites of his faith, honoring the memory of our city's and state's distinguished statesman."

Senator Butler, who had a wide reputation in Nebraska for his campaigns against incumbent governors who tried to beat him, was hospitalized briefly in the spring of 1953 for a kidney operation and in May of this year he suffered a sprained hip.

During the 1952 campaign there was some concern over Butler's health but he blamed a "football knee" for the reports.

"I've never felt better in my life," he said as he went into the campaign.

The day before his death Senator Butler had been active in the Senate, apparently in good health.

Shocked by News

In Washington Senator Bowling (R-Neb.), who announced Senator Butler's death to the Senate, said she was too distraught with shock and sorrow to speak at length Friday.

"The Senate will miss him," she said.

Mrs. Bowling was appointed just 80 days ago to replace the late Senator Dwight Griswold, whose death came unexpectedly.

After Speaker Martin (R-Mass) named Nebraska's four representatives and Reps. Jensen (R-Iowa) and Martin (R-Iowa) to represent the House at funeral services, the House adjourned out of respect to Senator Butler.

Trading Halted

The Omaha Grain Exchange ceased trading for one minute at 11 a. m. Friday as a mark of sorrow at the death of Senator Butler. The trading floor was cleared. The Senator was a partner in an Omaha grain concern.

Mrs. Frank Butler of Cambridge, the Senator's sister-in-law, went to Washington to accompany the body back to Nebraska.

His survivors include three other sisters-in-law, Mrs. Guy Butler of Lincoln, Mrs. J. B. Cole of Aurora and Mrs. J. O. Goodwin of Plattsmouth, and several nieces and nephews.

Friends have suggested that contributions be made to the Butler Memorial Library in Cambridge in place of flowers for the Senator.

Lexington Will Vote On Pool

Lincoln Star Special

LEXINGTON, Neb. — A special election will be held here Tuesday when voters will decide upon a $115,000 bond issue for construction of a new swimming pool.

Robert Dyke, swimming instructor, said that due to the inadequate size of the pool he and his assistants were forced to divide the group of 125 children into two different classes.

The proposed new pool has the backing of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations.

Date for the special election followed a chain of events. First, a group of citizens appeared before the City Council asking a special election. The proposition was referred to the recently-formed planning commission who suggested at the next council meeting that a total of $120,000 would be needed to build a suitable pool.

Figures were then obtained from three engineering firms on costs of a pool suitable for Lexington. The average figure presented by the three firms amounted to $111,575 to which the council added about $4,000 for water, sewer and light connections. Chief cost listed in the estimates was the complete bath house for which the average was $14,000.

Undue Haste For Candidate Naming Rapped By Crosby

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Gov. Robert Crosby Friday rapped the "undue amount of haste" with which political parties must move to name candidates for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Hugh Butler.

State law requires the parties to select candidates within three days. Because state offices will be closed Sunday and Monday, the attorney general has advised party leaders to file names of their nominees by noon Saturday.

Crosby told the Fremont Rotary Club that an early appointment to fill the Senate vacancy is important because of the precarious balance between Republicans and Democrats.

'Hardly Pause For Death'

Noting the political activity in the state since Butler's illness, the governor observed that "the political aspirations held by many hardly pause for news of the death."

Turning to world problems, Crosby said that many non-interventionists must have felt very different when they found the Communists had established a beachhead in Guatemala.

On foreign aid, he said: "We should bolster, where absolutely necessary, the economies of those countries which are sure friends of ours, which are sure foes of Communism. It seems to me the administration is trying to do this."

Wagener Challenges Anderson To Series Of Political Debates

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — Frederick H. Wagener of Lincoln, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, Friday challenged Victor E. Anderson, an opponent, to a series of debates on the issues in the gubernatorial race.

Anderson also is from Lincoln. Both candidates were speakers at a meeting of the Richardson County Women's Republican Club.

Tax Problem Cited

Wagener said the main issue in the campaign is the tax problem. He favors a replacement tax at the state level.

He said Anderson should "tell the voters of Nebraska where he proposes to cut the state budget."

Anderson, speaking from the same platform, declared: "Using the businessman's approach, I am recommending a complete overhauling of the present state budget."

David City Scouts Hold Fishing Meet

Deputy Game Warden Vern Stevens, assisted by A. V. Hascall and A. Schaumburg, kept watch over the lake the week preceding the contest to keep out fishermen until after the Scout event.

Republican Valley Harvesting Moves Into High Gear

10 To 52 Bu. Yields For Thayer Co.

By The Associated Press
The wheat harvest was in high gear in the Republican Valley Friday, with one report indicating the valley's harvest was about half complete.
Eighty combines entered the McCook port of entry during a single day this week, and 20 combines were poised in the Imperial-Wauneta area, waiting for Frenchman Valley wheat to reach harvest stage.
First cuttings were reported as far north as Saunders County, with harvests in Buffalo, York and Seward Counties rapidly gaining momentum.
Some black stem rust was reported in the Waco community in York County and in Otoe County. Rust is present in many wheat fields in the Fremont area but is not expected to interfere greatly with grain yields, extension agents from Dodge, Washington and Colfax Counties agreed.
Elevators in the southern part of the state reported that grain was averaging just short of 60 pounds a bushel with moisture varying generally from 10 to 13 per cent. Yields ranged from 10 to 52 bushels in one county, Thayer County.

Moisture Content Low
In the Republican Valley, Cambridge wheat showed 12 per cent moisture and weighed between 54 and 60 pounds. Yields ran from 20 to 25 bushels an acre.
Farther east, at Hebron, new wheat rolled into town at a rate of nearly 50,000 bushels a day. The Thayer County crop tested about 12 per cent moisture with weights around 60 pounds.
In nearby Jefferson County, wheat in the Reynolds area is averaging 20 to 40 bushels an acre and testing 60-61 pounds with 10-11 per cent moisture.
In southeastern Nebraska, M. J. Miller, manager of a Nebraska City elevator, reported that wheat there is unusually dry and weighs from 56 to 60 pounds.
Miller said that his Kansas City office had found more storage space and that wheat would be stored for anyone within trucking distance on the basis of a 75 per cent storage for government loan instead of 50 per cent, as announced earlier.
First York County yields weighed 57-59 pounds a bushel, tested around 11 per cent moisture and yielded, in the Waco area, from 15 to 35 bushels an acre.
At Utica, in Seward County, yields have been fair, with the top report at 30 bushels.
To the northeast, in Saunders County, the harvest was just getting underway. First reports indicated wheat was weighing around 60 pounds with moisture varying from 10 to 13 per cent.
Early indications in Buffalo County, around Kearney, were for good quality wheat with yields above average.
The first load of wheat at North Platte tested 57 pounds and indicated 25 bushels to the acre.
Much of the dry-land wheat in the North Platte area suffered drought and wind loss and large acreages were plowed under, but the wheat that was saved has made a good showing on spring moisture.
Elevators at Scribner and Blair had not received new grain. Indications were that the harvest in Washington and northern Dodge Counties would not begin until next week.

Sen. Butler Funeral To Be Tuesday

Day Of Mourning Declared At Omaha
OMAHA (AP)—Funeral services for Senator Hugh Butler, 76-year-old Nebraska statesman, will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the First Central Congregational Church in Omaha. The Senator died in a Washington hospital Thursday night.
A brief funeral service will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. EDT at Gawler's Funeral Home in Washington. The body will then be taken by train to Omaha.
Senator Butler, a leader of the William F. Knowland of California, told his colleagues in Washington they may go to the Omaha services by either train or plane. Those going by plane may leave Monday morning and return that night.
Proclamation Issued
Meanwhile, Omaha Mayor John Rosenblatt declared Saturday, July 3, a day of mourning in the city of Omaha for the Senator.
His proclamation said: "To respect and honor the memory of our beloved fellow citizen, Sen. Hugh A. Butler, I, John Rosenblatt, mayor of the city of Omaha, do hereby declare Saturday, July 3, 1954, a day of mourning in the city of Omaha, request all flags be flown at half staff, and recommend to all who engage in public work that day and the Sunday following to make an appropriate observance, each according to the rites of his faith, honoring the memory of our city's and state's distinguished statesman."
Senator Butler, who had a wide reputation in Nebraska for his campaigns against incumbent governors who tried to beat him, was hospitalized briefly in the spring of 1953 for a kidney operation and in May of this year he suffered a sprained hip.
During the 1952 campaign there was some concern over Butler's health but he blamed a "football knee" for the reports. "I've never felt better in my life," he said as he went into the campaign.
The day before his death Senator Butler had been active in the Senate, apparently in good health.

Shocked by News
In Washington Senator Bowring (R-Neb.), who announced Senator Butler's death to the Senate, said she was too distraught with shock and sorrow to speak at length Friday.
"The Senate will miss him," she said.
Mrs. Bowring was appointed just 80 days ago to replace the late Senator Dwight Griswold, whose death came unexpectedly.
After Speaker Martin (R-Mass) named Nebraska's four representatives and Reps. Jensen (R-Iowa) and Martin (R-Iowa) to represent the House at funeral services, the House adjourned out of respect to Senator Butler.
Trading Halted
The Omaha Grain Exchange ceased trading for one minute at 11 a. m. Friday as a mark of sorrow at the death of Senator Butler. The trading floor was cleared. The Senator was a partner in an Omaha grain concern.
Mrs. Frank Butler of Cambridge, the Senator's sister-in-law, went to Washington to accompany the body back to Nebraska.
His survivors include three other sisters-in-law Mrs. Guy Butler of Lincoln, Mrs. J. B. Cole of Aurora and Mrs. J. O. Goodwin of Plattsmouth, and several nieces and nephews.
Friends have suggested that contributions be made to the Butler Memorial Library in Cambridge in place of flowers for the Senator.

Undue Haste For Candidate Naming Rapped By Crosby
FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—Gov. Robert Crosby Friday rapped the "undue amount of haste" with which political parties must move to name candidates for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Hugh Butler.
State law requires the parties to select candidates within three days. Because state offices will be closed Sunday and Monday, the attorney general has advised party leaders to file names of their nominees by noon Saturday.
Crosby told the Fremont Rotary Club that an early appointment to fill the Senate vacancy is important because of the precarious balance between Republicans and Democrats.
"Hardly Pause For Death"
Noting the political activity in the state since Butler's illness, the governor observed that "the political aspirations held by many hardly pause for news of the death."
Turning to world problems, Crosby said that many non-interventionists must have felt very different when they found the Communists had established a beachhead in Guatemala.
On foreign aid, he said: "We should bolster, where absolutely necessary, the economies of those countries which are sure friends of ours, which are sure foes of Communism. It seems to me the administration is trying to do this."

Lexington Will Vote On Pool

Lincoln Star Special
LEXINGTON, Neb.—A special election will be held here Tuesday when voters will decide upon a $115,000 bond issue for construction of a new swimming pool.
Robert Dyke, swimming instructor, said that due to the inadequate size of the pool he and his assistants were forced to divide the group of 125 children into two different classes.
The proposed new pool has the backing of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations.
Date for the special election followed a chain of events. First, a group of citizens appeared before the City Council asking a special election. The proposition was referred to the recently-formed planning commission which suggested at the next council meeting that a total of $120,000 would be needed to build a suitable pool.
Figures were then obtained from three engineering firms on costs of a pool suitable for Lexington. The average figure presented by the three firms amounted to $111,575 to which the council added about $4,000 for water, sewer and light connections. Chief cost listed in the estimates was the complete bath house for which the average was $44,000.

All trains were stopped briefly along the UP main line. A short time later the searching party discovered the girl's body near the track.
Norma is survived by her parents, three sisters and a brother.

Wagener Challenges Anderson To Series Of Political Debates

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Fredrick H. Wagener of Lincoln, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, Friday challenged Victor E. Anderson, an opponent, to a series of debates on the issues in the gubernatorial race.
Anderson also is from Lincoln. Both candidates were speakers at a meeting of the Richardson County Women's Republican Club.
Tax Problem Cited
Wagener said the main issue in the campaign is the tax problem. He favors a replacement tax at the state level.
He said Anderson should "tell the voters of Nebraska where he proposes to cut the state budget." Anderson, speaking from the same platform, declared: "Using the businessman's approach, I am recommending a complete overhauling of the present complicated state budget together with strict budget control and continuous budget study with particular reference to actual requirements and expenditures."
"I am certain that by paying close attention to what our various state departments actually need and use, and by knowing from month to month and quarter to quarter what each department is spending and how it is using its appropriated funds, many substantial savings can be made which will reflect in taxation requirements."

Watershed Plans Near Completion
NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. (AP)—Plans are nearing completion for an almost one-million-dollar improvement program for the Brownell Creek watershed.
The 5-year program will provide erosion control and flood prevention in the 23.6 square mile watershed, located in the north-central part of Otoe County.
Improvements will cost $922,980, of which $503,467 will be borne by state and local interests and $419,513 by the federal government.
When plans are completed, they will be submitted to the Soil Conservation Service for approval. The service is expected to return the final work plan to a local committee by Oct. 1.

David City Scouts Hold Fishing Meet
Lincoln Star Special
DAVID CITY, Neb.—About 20 Cub Scouts and their families had a big time when they took part in a fishing contest and potluck supper at the City Park.
The lake at the park had been recently stocked with 1,600 bluegills, so the Scouts had a field day pulling in the fish. The fathers were kept busy helping take the fish off the hooks and putting more bait on the hooks.
Deputy Game Warden Vern Stevens, assisted by A. V. Hasgall and A. Schaumburg, kept watch over the lake the week preceding the contest to keep out fishermen until after the Scout event.

Persley Favored Whip Khalfi In TV Scrap

By MURRAY ROSE
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Art Persley, fifth-ranked lightweight contender from Red Cross, La., was favored today to rack up his fifth-straight victory when he meets fleet-footed Hoacine Khalfi of France in a television bout tonight.

The 10-rounder, starting at 7 p.m., CST, will be fought in the Convention Hall ballroom. It will be the first sports event to be telecast nationally (ABC) from this resort city on the Atlantic Ocean.

A fine boxer with a snapping left jab, Persley is a 1-2 choice over the 26-year-old Frenchman who upset featherweight champion Sandy Saddler in 10 rounds May 17. In his U. S. debut in March, the curly-haired invader was outpointed by Cisco Andrade, a ranking 135-pounder.

The 30-year-old Persley has won four straight since he made such a dismal showing in losing a 10-rounder to Cuba's Orlando Zulueta 11 months ago. Following that defeat, which knocked him out of a No. 2 rating, the muscular Negro contender stopped Phil Kim in 7 rounds, whipped Henry Davis in 10, outpointed Armand Savoie and halted Tommy Maddox in 8. The last two victories were scored in 1954.

Persley's overall record is 43-3-2 with 12 knockouts. He was stopped once, by Luther Rawlings three years ago. Khalfi's record is 37-3-4 with 12 kayos. He's never been stopped.

As is customary under New Jersey rules, the referee will be the only official. He will score the fight by rounds.

Babe Grabs Big Lead In Fems' Open

PEABODY, Mass. (AP)—Babe Dadricksen Zaharias, key confidence and drives booming, shot a one-under-par 71 Friday to grab an almost insurmountable seven-stroke lead at the halfway point of the Women's National Open golf tournament.

The brilliant round—a feminine record for the 6,393-yard, par-72 Salem Country Club course—gave the fabulous daughter of Texas a 36-hole score of 143 going into Saturday's double round windup.

In second place at 150, after a sparkling 73, came the defending champion, Betsy Rawls of Sparfensburg, S. C., and even she conceded that only a monstrous blow-up could halt the Babe's bid for a third Open title.

"I was nine strokes back of Patty Berg last year at this stage and I beat Jackie Pung in the playoff," said Miss Rawls. "But the way the Babe is playing now who is going to catch her."

Miss Rawls sank a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th to clinch second place. It was a day of reckoning for the first day wonders.

Claire Doran, the attractive Cleveland school teacher who tied Mrs. Zaharias for the first-round lead Thursday, came up with a frigid putting, iron Friday and skied to a seven-over-par 79.

This gave Miss Doran a tie for third place with Betty Hicks of Durham, N. C., who won the national Amateur back in 1941. Miss Hicks had a steady second round 76 to go with an opening 75.

Pat Lesser, dark-haired Seattle student, also fired a 73 for the second round to take over fourth place at 152. She missed two greens for bogeys and sank a 15-foot putt for her lone birdie on the 12th.

The opening round sensation, 19-year-old Mary (Mickey) Wright of LaJolla, Calif., blew up on the course's treacherous incoming nine for a 79 which gave her a score of 153. She was tied at that figure with Louise Suggs, two-time winner of this event, and Mary Lena Faulk, the national amateur titleholder from Thomasville, Ga.

But this was the Babe's day strictly as the great all-time American athlete hit the peak of her golfing skill and showed no weariness from her battle with cancer 15 months ago.

"I've got confidence and George ain't mad at me," she quipped after her record round. "That's why I'm playing such good golf."

The Babe's husband, the ponderous 280-pound ex-wrestler George Zaharias, plodded every step of the way with his wife and later gave her a big kiss.

Mrs. Zaharias went out in 37, one-over-par, and came back in 34, two-under. She alone was able to master the gusty cross winds and the tricky traps of the long back nine.

Unsure putting caused the undoing of the attractive Miss Doran. She three-putted the fifth and missed six other putts of under eight feet.

Miss Wright also found the greens a bit too tricky. Out in 37, one-over-par, she missed two drives on the back side and failed to make short putts on five of the return holes—the 10th, 11th, 12th, 14th and 16th. On the 16th she three-putted, missed from one foot for a double bogey six.

Miss Rawls was saved by a sharp putter when her irons got erratic. She sank a 10-footer on the ninth and the 15-footer on the 18th and had three good putts of six feet.

Podoley Leads In Decathlon

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Jim Podoley, a rangy, 20-year-old sophomore from Central Michigan College, Friday grabbed a 177 point lead in the first half of the National AAU decathlon championships. Schoolboy Aubrey Lewis of the Kearny, N. J., A.C. was second and favored Bob Richards was a close third.

The six-foot, one and a half-inch, 175-pound collegian accumulated 3,331 points in the first five events—the 100 meter dash, broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400 meter run.

The final five events of this test of skill and stamina will be held Saturday afternoon starting at 12 noon (EST).

Lewis, a muscular, 19-year-old from Montclair, N. J., fifth, was second with 3,654 points while the Rev. Richards had 3,542.

Although he trailed, Richards, representing the Los Angeles A.C., said "I think I'll still win."

The flying pace's favorite event, the pole vault, is on Saturday's program. The 28-year-old Richards, who won the pole vault at the Helsinki Olympic Games, was runner-up in the decathlon last year and won it in 1951.

One Error In 183 Chances

Red's Gus Bell Top NL Center Fielder

NEW YORK (AP)—Cincinnati's Gus Bell, generally not rated in the defensive class of Duke Snider of the Dodgers and Willie Mays of the Giants, tops all National League center fielders in fielding average so far this season. The 25-year-old Redleg stalwart has made only one error in 183 chances for a .995 mark, figures compiled by The Associated Press revealed Friday.

Thomas, Pittsburgh's left field replacement for Ralph Kiner, has erred only once in 202 chances for a .993 average. Monte Irvin of the Giants is next with .983.

Pafko, in his 11th big league season, has a .992 fielding mark with one error in 128 chances. Stan Musial of the Cards is the runner-up right fielder at .980.

Delsing, who has a fine lifetime fielding average of .987, also has erred only once in 135 chances for .993. He's followed by Minnie Miñoso of the White Sox with .988.

Only two points in front of Boston's Jackie Jensen, Doby shows one misplay out of 190 for a .995 percentage. Jensen also has made one error, but in 137 chances.

Piersall, rated by many observers one of the best fielding outfielders in the last decade, has accepted 120 chances with a lone error for a .992 mark. Dave Philley of Cleveland, another player with a good defensive reputation, is next at .985.

Musial, Berra Top All-Star Choices

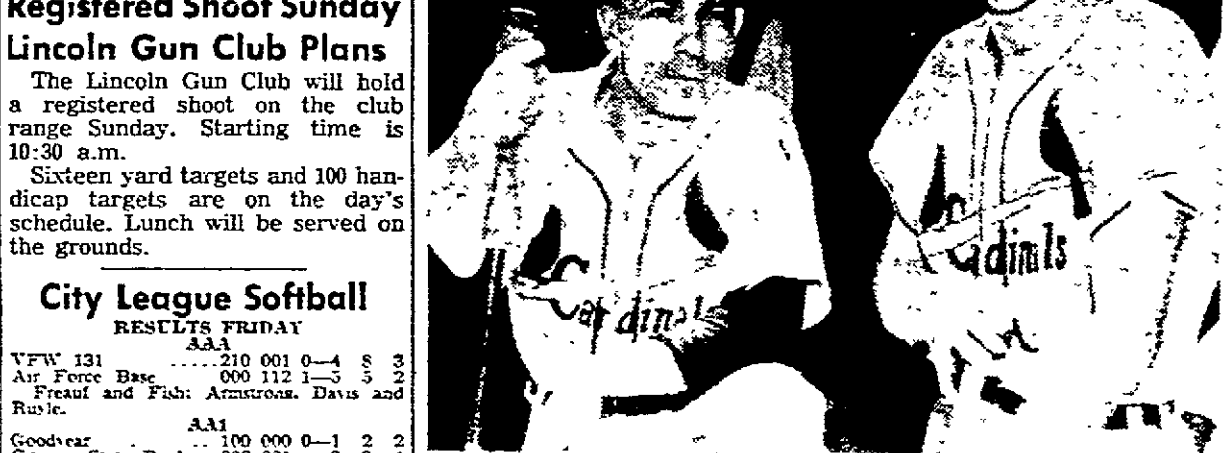

CHICAGO (AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees Friday were racing neck-and-neck for top vote-getting laurels in the All-Star baseball poll which ends at midnight tonight.

Only 983 votes separated the two in the latest tabulation with Musial ahead, 843,906 votes to Berra's 842,923.

Ray Jablonski, of the Cardinals, moved into the National League third base lead by 42,314 votes over Ransom Jackson of the Chicago Cubs.

Promptly at midnight tonight, ballot boxes will be closed at all voting centers and a final counting made. Final returns of the contest which started June 11 will be announced Monday.

The 16 elected players, eight from each league, will start the All-Star game at Cleveland July 13 and play at least three innings. The pitchers, additional outfielders, infielders and catchers, will be announced by the National and American Leagues next Tuesday.

Fight Fans More Active In Other Nations Says Fleischer

By PAT ROBINSON
NEW YORK (INS) — Boxing says Nat Fleischer, follows the flag.

Nat, who is universally recognized as boxing's top authority and historian, gives you a little dope on fights abroad.

"In Siam the fans cheer both fighters alike. But everywhere else they react like Americans, only more so. In Japan the fans sit on cushions on the floor and if they don't like a decision they start throwing the cushions."

"In France, Germany, Spain and Italy they are liable to throw anything they can get their hands on if they are displeased and the cops often have to save the referee's neck."

"Fights don't start before 11 p.m. in Barcelona and Madrid and they usually wind up about 3 a.m. when the fans meet the milkman going to work."

"The average tops for fights in Europe is about $5. In Tokyo the prices run from $1 to $5 and tops in Manila and Siam is about $3."

Nat saw some good prospects in Paris but the only fighter who impressed him as a comer in England is a light heavyweight, Ron Barton. He also thinks highly of Dickie Wong, a Hawaiian born Chinese-American welter, and Young Marino, a half brother of Dado Marino, former bantam king.

"The Siamese," says Nat, "are crazy about anything American. The government which runs the fights there asked me to send down a boxing expert who could condition and coach their soldiers."

Persley Favored Whip Khalfi In TV Scrap

By MURRAY ROSE
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Art Persley, fifth-ranked light-weight contender from Red Cross, La., was favored today to rack up his fifth-straight victory when he meets fleet-footed Hoacine Khalfi of France in a television bout tonight.

The 10-rounder, starting at 7 p.m., CST, will be fought in the Convention Hall ballroom. It will

Babe Grabs Big Lead In Fems' Open

PEABODY, Mass. (AP)—Babe Grabs, a 19-year-old, confident and drives booming, shot a one-under-par 71 Friday to grab an almost insurmountable seven-stroke lead at the halfway point of the Women's National Open golf tournament.

The brilliant round—a feminine record for the 6,393-yard, par-72 Salem Country Club course—gave the fabulous daughter of Texas a 36-hole score of 143 going into Saturday's double round windup.

In second place at 150, after a sparkling 73, came the defending champion, Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., and even she conceded that only a monstrous blow-up could halt the Babe's bid for a third Open title.

"I was nine strokes back of Patty Berg last year at this stage and I bet Jackie Pung in the playoff," said Miss Rawls. "But the way the Babe is playing now who is going to catch her?"

Miss Rawls sank a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th to clinch second place. It was a day of reckoning for the first day wonders.

Claire Doran, the attractive Cleveland school teacher who tied Mrs. Zaharias for the first-round lead Thursday, came up with a frigid putting iron Friday and skied to a seven-over-par 79.

This gave Miss Doran a tie for third place with Betty Hicks of Durham, N. C., who won the national Amateur back in 1941. Miss Hicks had a steady second round 76 to go with an opening 75.

Pat Lesser, dark-haired Seattle student, also fired a 73 for the second round to take over fourth place at 152. She missed two greens for bogeys and sank a 15-foot putt for her lone birdie on the 12th.

The opening round sensation, 19-year-old Mary (Mickey) Wright of LaJolla, Calif., blew up on the course's treacherous incoming nine for a 79 which gave her a score of 153. She was tied at that figure with Louise Suggs, two-time winner of this event, and Mary Lena Faulk, the national amateur titleholder from Thomasville, Ga.

But this was the Babe's day strictly as the great all-time American athlete hit the peak of her golfing skill and showed no weariness from her battle with cancer 15 months ago.

"I've got confidence and George ain't mad at me," she quipped after her record round. "That's why I'm playing such good golf." The Babe's husband, the ponderous 280-pound ex-wrestler George Zaharias, plodded every step of the way with his wife and later gave her a big kiss.

Mrs. Zaharias went out in 37, one-over-par, and came back in 34, two-under. She alone was able to master the gusty cross winds and the tricky traps of the long back nine.

Unsure putting caused the undoing of the attractive Miss Doran. She three-putted the fifth and missed six other putts of under eight feet.

Miss Wright also found the greens a bit too tricky. Out in 37, one-over-par, she missed two drives on the back side and failed to make short putts on five of the return holes—the 10th, 11th, 12th, 14th and 16th. On the 16th she three-putted, missed from one foot for a double bogey six.

Miss Rawls was saved by a sharp putter when her iron got erratic. She sank a 10-footer on the ninth and the 15-footer on the 18th and had three good putts of six feet.

Podoley Leads In Decathlon

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Jim Podoley, a rangy, 20-year-old sophomore from Central Michigan College, Friday grabbed a 177 point lead in the first half of the National AAU decathlon championships. Schoolboy Aubrey Lewis of the Kearny, N. J., A. C. was second and favored Bob Richards was a close third.

The six-foot, one and a half-inch, 175-pound collegian accumulated 3,331 points in the first five events—the 100 meter dash, broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400 meter run.

The final five events of this test of skill and stamina will be held Saturday afternoon starting at 12 noon (EST).

Lewis, a muscular, 19-year-old from Montclair, N. J., High, was second with 3,654 points while the Rev. Richards had 3,542.

Although he trailed, Richards, representing the Los Angeles AC, said "I think I'll still win."

The flying parson's favorite event, the pole vault, is on Saturday's program. The 28-year-old Richards, who won the pole vault at the Helsinki Olympic Games, was runner-up in the decathlon last year and won it in 1951.

Yost Gets Two On Error

One Error In 183 Chances

Red's Gus Bell Top NL Center Fielder

NEW YORK (AP)—Cincinnati's Gus Bell, generally not rated in the defensive class of Duke Snider of the Dodgers and Willie Mays of the Giants, tops all National League center fielders in fielding average so far this season.

The 25-year-old Redleg stalwart has made only one error in 183 chances for a .995 mark, figures compiled by The Associated Press revealed Friday.

Thomas, Pittsburgh's left field replacement for Ralph Kiner, has erred only once in 128 chances for a .995 average. Monte Irvin of the Giants is next with .983.

Pafko, in his 11th big league season, has a .992 fielding mark with one error in 128 chances. Stan Musial of the Cardinals is the runner-up right fielder at .980.

Delsing, who has a fine lifetime fielding average of .987, also has erred only once in 135 chances for .993. He's followed by Minnie Minoso of the White Sox with .988.

Only two points in front of Boston's Jackie Jensen, Doby shows one misplay out of 190 for a .995 percentage. Jensen also has made one error, but in 137 chances.

Piersall, rated by many observers one of the best fielding outfielders in the last decade, has accepted 120 chances with a lone error for a .992 mark. Dave Philley of Cleveland, another player with a good defensive reputation, is next at .985.

Fight Fans More Active In Other Nations Says Fleischer

By PAT ROBINSON
NEW YORK (INS) — Boxing says Nat Fleischer, follows the flap.

Nat, who is universally recognized as boxing's top authority and historian, gives you a little dope on fights abroad.

"In Siam the fans cheer both fighters alike. But everywhere else they react like Americans, only more so. In Japan the fans sit on cushions on the floor and if they don't like a decision they start throwing the cushions."

"In France, Germany, Spain and Italy they are liable to throw anything they can get their hands on if they are displeased and the cops often have to save the referee's neck."

"Fights don't start before 11 p.m. in Barcelona and Madrid and they usually wind up about 3 a.m. when the fans meet the milkman going to work."

"The average tops for fights in Europe is about $5. In Tokyo the prices run from $1 to $5 and tops in Manila and Siam is about $3."

Nat saw some good prospects in Paris but the only fighter who impressed him as a corner in England is a light heavyweight, Ron Barton. He also thinks highly of Dickie Wong, a Hawaiian born Chinese-American welter, and Young Marino, a half brother of Dado Marino, former bantam king.

"The Siamese," says Nat, "are crazy about anything American. The government which runs the fights there asked me to send down a boxing expert who could condition and coach their soldiers."

You can drive fast and argue with the road how in front. You can drive slow and argue with the road how in back.

Each Fourth we plead with you to make the Fifth and Sixth glorious too. Things were much safer in the old days when the gas was in the patriotic order. It took him five hours just to tell you what day it was.

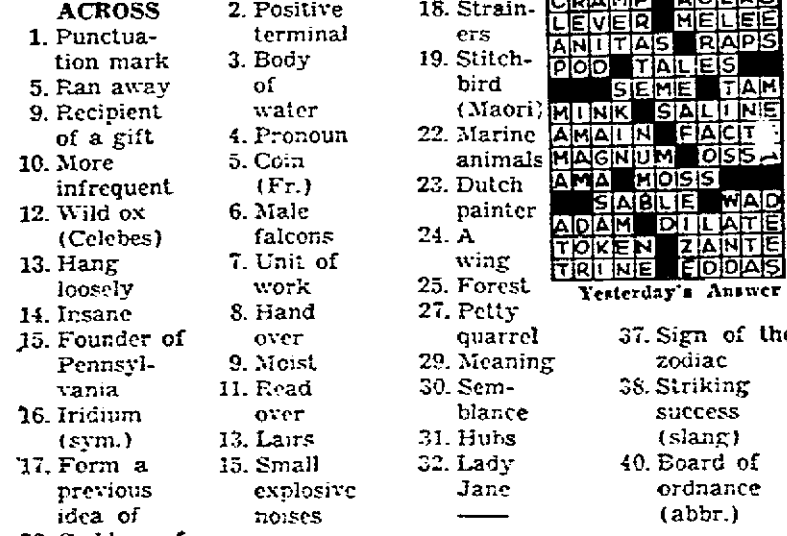

We need more roads in this country. Congress is going to vote on my suggestion to fill the rivers in with cement.

Rivers get wider as they get to the big cities. Roads stay the same size.

The result is like stuffing rich into an olive branch.

Why not drive slowly and get there?

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAKING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

You have two choices of driving on this patriotic outburst of freedom, loose brakes and co-operative arm signals.

Each Fourth we plead with you to make the Fifth and Sixth glorious too. Things were much safer in the old days when the gas was in the patriotic orator. It took him five hours just to tell you what day it was.

We need more roads in this country. Congress is going to vote on my suggestion to fill the rivers in with cement.

Rivers get wider as they get to the big cities. Roads stay the same size.

The result is like stuffing high hats into an olive bottle.

Why not drive slowly and get there?

Guatemala Gay Mood Dims Out

Anti-Red Chiefs Fail to Appear

GUATEMALA (AP)—The gay mood of Guatemala City celebrating the end of the nation's victorious two-week anti-Communist revolt evaporated quickly Friday night.

The damper fell when it became apparent the two principals in a new patched-up ruling junta have deferred their triumphant return to the capital.

Rebel leader Col. Carlos Castillo Armas and Col. Eliezer Monzon, chief of the junta which took over the government in the midst of the revolt, signed a peace pact in the pinkish dawn at San Salvador Friday and announced they would return to the capital.

Guatemalans touched off firecrackers and rang churchbells and draped the streets of the capital with blue and white pennants to celebrate.

Fail To Appear
Crowds in fiesta attire hurried out to La Aurora Airport to greet the two chiefs with flowers. A holiday was declared, and business closed up.

But enthusiasm dimmed out under the bright July sky as the hours passed and the two colonels failed to appear.

Sheer fatigue from the two nights-and-a-day negotiations at the Salvadoran capital and the desire of Castillo Armas to reorganize his headquarters at Chiquimula and prepare his troops for entry into the capital were given here as the reasons for the postponement.

He was reported to have arrived at Chiquimula with the intention of leading his "Liberation army" into the capital.

The two U. S. ambassadors to El Salvador and Guatemala participated in the San Salvador conference, and the papal nuncio, Genaro Verolina, not only helped mediate the dispute but signed the agreement reached by the participants.

40th, Calvert Job To Start
New plans and specifications will be submitted to the City Council Tuesday for the paving of 40th from Calvert to Prescott and Prescott from 40th to the east line of lot 31, Union district in paving district 1272.

A contract was laid and work started on the controversial strip some weeks ago but was halted when the sufficiency of the number of signers in favor of the paving was questioned. When it was found the necessary 51 per cent of signers in favor had not been acquired, a new act of sentiment in the area was made.

This new survey showed, said Mayor Clark Jewry, that there are now more than 51 per cent of the abutting property owners in favor of the project so the job will be started again.

One section of the original district, 40th from Prescott to 150 feet south of Prescott, has been omitted from the new district as non-essential.

Douglas County Attorney Orders Fireworks Return

OMAHA (AP)—Four thousand dollars worth of fireworks seized by deputy sheriffs here must be returned to Duffy's Fireworks, Lincoln, the Douglas County Attorney's office held.

The fireworks were confiscated when deputies arrested Alvin Konvaln of Omaha, who was charged with illegal possession and sales of fireworks.

His case was continued a week by County Judge Robert Troyer Thursday. It was at this hearing that attorneys said the fireworks belonged to the Lincoln firm. As there is no state law providing confiscation except in cases of sale, Deputy County Attorney Robert McGowan said the fireworks would have to be returned to Duffy's. The Lincoln firm had contained the fireworks were here on consignment.

McGowan said only the pieces purchased by deputies for evidence could be held.

Judge Troyer rapped the Lincoln firm for "apparently encouraging open violation of the law in Douglas County."

Job-Seekers Total Greatest In Years

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—More than four times as many persons are seeking employment through the State Employment Office here as a year ago. Manager Orrill B. Zigafos said.

He reported that 1,147 persons are looking for jobs through the office, as compared with 326 a year ago. The number is the largest since the war, he said.

Job opportunities in the area are below last year, he added. About 349 openings are now listed; 646 were available at this time in 1933.

Zigafos said claims for unemployment compensation benefits are about twice as heavy as a year ago.

Farmers in Hall, Hamilton and Merrick Counties will need between 1,000 and 1,200 youths next week to detassel corn, he said. About 90 persons are already at work in the fields.

Omaha Woman Dies In 3-Story Plunge

Jet Hits; 4 Killed On Ground

Two houses and an automobile were destroyed.

The two Air Force lieutenants in the F94C Starfire, which carried 48 high-powered 2½-inch rockets, bailed out before it plunged into tiny Walsville, 11 miles southwest of Uta. The two, who escaped injury, were Lt. William E. Atkins, 24, of Dutton, Va., the pilot, and Lt. Henry F. Coudon, 26, of Perryville, Md., radar observer.

Killed were Stanley Phillips, 38, his wife, Florence, 32, and their son, Gary, 11, all of neighboring Hecla, and Mrs. Doris Monroe, 28, occupant of one of the houses that was destroyed. The Phillips family was in the automobile. Mrs. Monroe was in her home preparing lunch for her four children when the plane crashed.

The plane was attached to the 27th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at nearby Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome. It was one of two jets ordered up to check on an unknown plane that had entered the area guarded by the air defense operation.

A Griffiss spokesman said the pilots were satisfied that the plane was "friendly" and were headed back to the base when fire broke out in the cockpit of the ill-fated craft.

The air base said the pilot and radar observer stuck to the plane until the "last minute." A spokesman quoted Atkins as reporting that he ordered Coudon to bail out, then jumped himself from about 7,000 feet.

Griffiss said that fuel in the burning plane apparently exploded when the jet crashed. A spokesman said it had not been determined whether an explosion occurred while the jet was in the air.

Wing Hits Car

The unoccupied plane struck a large elm tree back of the Walsville general store. A section of the burning craft, probably a wing, struck the car carrying the Phillips family home, presumably from the Rome State School, where both husband and wife were employed as occupational instructors.

The sedan burst into flames, ploughed into the home of Mrs. Mary Peck, 79, and set the colonial frame structure afire. Mrs. Peck fled to safety.

Meanwhile, the body of the plane plunged through the roof of the one-story Monroe home and fire quickly destroyed it.

Alaska Governor Praises Butler

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Gov. Heintzelman of Alaska paid tribute to the late Sen. Butler as "one of the most helpful friends of Alaska."

"I first came into close contact with him during the 80th Congress in 1947," said the governor in his tribute, "when he gave strong support to enactment of the Tongass Timber Bill which made it possible to get the Ketchikan Pulp Mill established in Alaska."

"He took a special interest in promoting settlement and industrial development of Alaska and worked hard to improve laws and regulations under which public lands could be patented and resources acquired for the purpose. He helped in getting better appropriations to inventory our resources and make them accessible by roads and airfields."

"It will be recalled that it was the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, of which Butler was chairman, which drafted and guided through the full Senate the Alaska bill for Alaska, which generally is regarded as far superior to any previous statehood bill."

In addition to the respect and admiration in which I held him officially, I valued him as a close personal friend," Heintzelman said.

"Vigorous Protest"

BERLIN (AP)—Heidebrecht headquarters of the American Army in Europe protested Friday against the firing of one shot by an East German policeman on a U.S. Army convoy truck. The shot hit a front tire of the lead truck proceeding from West Germany to Berlin. The protest went to the commander-in-chief of the Soviet occupation forces, Gen. A. Grechko. The shot was not disclosed but a U.S. Army official said it was a "vigorous protest."

Oakland Boy Fatally Injured

OAKLAND, Neb. (AP)—Darrell Knocke, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Knocke of Oakland, was killed Friday when he became pinned between a trailer and a tree.

Knocke said his son apparently pulled some blocks from behind the wheels of a small trailer. The trailer rolled down a grade and pinned the boy against a tree.

Funeral services will be held in Atlantic, Monday.

AFL Hits Seized Property Return

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Federation of Labor opposed a bill to turn to the original owners German and Japanese property seized by the government during World War II under the Trading With the Enemy Act.

George D. Riley, of the labor organization's legislative committee, told a Senate judiciary subcommittee that the AFL's decision was identical to that of the 9,000 employees of General Aniline and Film Corp., with plants in upstate New York, New Jersey and California.

General Aniline and Film is the largest of all the enemy-owned or controlled properties taken over by the Justice Department's alien property office during the war.

Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb), author of an identical House bill, urged at Friday's hearing that the seized property would be "morally right" and "add immeasurably to the effectiveness of our foreign policy."

Curtis said the return of some 350 million dollars' worth of private property taken from German owners would "strengthen our friendship and growing collaboration with West Germany."

Guatemala Gay Mood Dims Out

Anti-Red Chiefs Fail To Appear

GUATEMALA (AP)—The gay mood of Guatemala City celebrating the end of the nation's vicious two-week anti-Communist revolt evaporated quickly Friday night.

The damper fell when it became apparent the two principals in a new patched-up ruling junta have deferred their triumphal return to the capital.

Rebel leader Col. Carlos Castillo Armas and Col. Efigenio Monzon, chief of the junta which took over the government in the midst of the revolt, signed a peace pact in the pinkish dawn of Saturday Friday and announced they would return to the capital.

Guatemalans touched off firecrackers and rang churchbells and draped the streets of the capital with blue and white pennants to celebrate.

Fail To Appear

Crowds in fiesta attire hurried out to La Aurora Airport to greet the two chiefs with flowers. A holiday was declared, and business closed up.

But enthusiasm dimmed out under the bright July sky as the hours passed and the two colonels failed to appear.

Sheer fatigue from the two-nights-and-a-day negotiations at the Salvadorador capital and the desire of Castillo Armas to reorganize his headquarters at Chiquimula and prepare his troops for entry into the capital were given here as the reasons for the postponement.

He was reported to have arrived at Chiquimula with the intention of leading his "Liberation army" into the capital.

The two U. S. ambassadors to El Salvador and Guatemala participated in the Salvadorador conference, and the papal nuncio, Genaro Verolima, not only helped mediate the dispute but signed the agreement reached by the participants.

40th, Calvert Job To Start

New plans and specifications will be submitted to the City Council Tuesday for the paving of 40th from Calvert to Prescott and Prescott from 40th to the east line of lot 31, Union Addition in paving district 1272.

A contract was let and work started on the controversial district some weeks ago but was halted when the sufficiency of the number of signers in favor of the paving was questioned. When it was found the necessary 51 per cent of signers in favor had not been acquired, a new survey of sentiment in the area was made.

This new survey showed, said Mayor Clark Jeary, that there are now more than 51 per cent of the abutting property owners in favor of the project so the job will be started again.

One section of the original district, 40th from Prescott to 150 feet south of Prescott, has been omitted from the new district as non-essential.

Douglas County Attorney Orders Fireworks Return

OMAHA (AP)—Four thousand dollars worth of fireworks seized by deputy sheriffs here must be returned to Douglas County Attorney Robert McGowan said the Lincoln firm had contended the fireworks were here on consignment.

McGowan said only the pieces purchased by deputies for evidence could be held.

Judge Troyer rapped the Lincoln firm for apparently encouraging open violation of the law in Douglas County.

His case was continued a week by County Judge Robert Troyer Thursday. It was at this hearing that attorneys said the fireworks belonged to the Lincoln firm. As there is no state law providing confiscation except in cases of sale, Deputy County Attorney Robert McGowan said the fireworks would have to be returned to Duffy's. The Lincoln firm had contended the fireworks were here on consignment.

McGowan said only the pieces purchased by deputies for evidence could be held.

Judge Troyer rapped the Lincoln firm for apparently encouraging open violation of the law in Douglas County.

Job-Seekers Total Greatest In Years

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—More than four times as many persons are seeking employment through the State Employment Office here as a year ago, Manager Orrill B. Ziggafoos said.

He reported that 1,447 persons are looking for jobs through the office, as compared with 326 a year ago. The number is the largest since the war, he said.

Job opportunities in the area are below last year, he added. About 349 openings are now listed; 646 were available at this time in 1953.

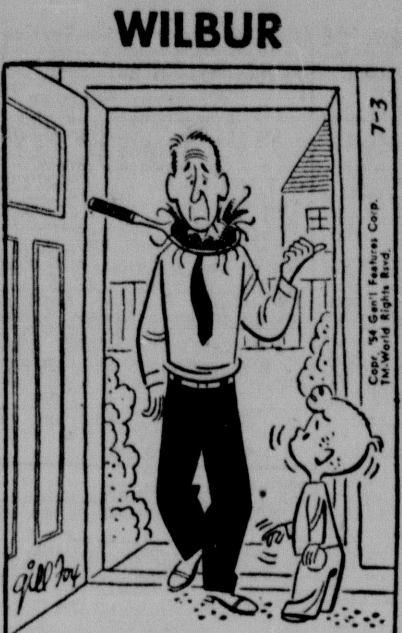

Ziggafoos said claims for unemployment compensation benefits are about twice as heavy as a year ago.

Farmers in Hall, Hamilton and Merrick Counties will need between 1,000 and 1,200 youths next week to detassel corn, he said. About 90 persons are already at work in the fields.

Omaha Woman Dies In 3-Story Plunge

OMAHA (AP)—Mrs. Nora Bell Hull, 20, was killed Friday in a fall to a paved alley from a third story bathroom at the Lorraine Hotel. Mrs. Hull resided at the hotel.

Acting Coroner George Sullivan listed the death as a suicide. A note was found in the room.

Jet Hits; 4 Killed On Ground

Two Houses, Auto Are Destroyed

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—A jet fighter plane returning from a quick "scramble" to investigate an unidentified plane crashed in flames in a crossroads hamlet Friday and killed four persons on the ground.

Two houses and an automobile were destroyed.

The two Air Force lieutenants in the F94C Starfire, which carried 48 high-powered 2½-inch rockets, bailed out before it plunged into tiny Walesville, 11 miles southwest of Utica. The two, who escaped injury, were Lt. William E. Atkins, 24, of Dutton, Va., the pilot, and Lt. Henry F. Coudon, 26, of Perryville, Md., radar observer.

Killed were Stanley Phillips, 38, his wife, Florence, 32, and their son, Gary, 11, all of neighboring Hecla, and Mrs. Doris Monroe, 28, occupant of one of the houses that was destroyed. The Phillips family was in the automobile. Mrs. Monroe was in her home preparing lunch for her four children when the plane crashed.

'Friendly' Plane The plane was attached to the 27th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at nearby Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome. It was one of two jets ordered up to check on an unknown plane that had entered the area guarded by the air defense operation.

A Griffiss spokesman said the pilots were satisfied that the plane was "friendly" and were headed back to the base when fire broke out in the cockpit of the ill-fated craft.

The air base said the pilot and radar observer stuck to the plane until the "last minute." A spokesman quoted Atkins as reporting that he ordered Coudon to bail out, then jumped himself from about 7,000 feet.

Griffiss said that fuel in the burning plane apparently exploded when the jet crashed. A spokesman said it had not been determined whether an explosion occurred while the jet was in the air.

Alaska Governor Praises Butler

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Gov. Heintzelman of Alaska paid tribute to the late Sen. Butler as "one of the most helpful friends of Alaska."

"I first came into close contact with him during the 80th Congress in 1947," said the governor in his tribute, "when he gave strong support to enactment of the Tongass Timber Bill which made it possible to get the Ketchikan Pulp Mill established in Alaska."

"He took a special interest in promoting settlement and industrial development of Alaska and worked hard to improve laws and regulations under which public lands could be patented and resources acquired for the purpose. He helped in getting better appropriations for the state and made them accessible by roads and airfields."

"It will be recalled that it was the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, of which Butler was chairman, which drafted and guided through the full Senate the bill for Alaska, which generally is regarded as far superior to any previous statehood bill. In addition to the respect and esteem in which I hold him officially, I valued him as a close personal friend," Heintzelman said.

'Vigorous Protest'

BERLIN (AP)—Heidelberg headquarters of the American Army in Europe protested Friday against the firing of one shot by an East German policeman on a U. S. Army convoy truck. The shot hit a front tire of the lead truck proceeding from West Germany to Berlin. The protest went to the commander-in-chief of the Soviet occupation forces, Gen. A. A. Gretchko. The text was not disclosed but a U. S. Army official said it was a "vigorous protest."

Ruling OK's Dropping Plans For Natural Gas To 13 Towns

Thirteen Nebraska towns have been denied natural gas service through a Federal Power Commission ruling giving Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co. authority to drop plans for service to the towns.

Towns involved are Shickley, Comstock, Ona, Sargent, Strang, Boelus, Ohawa, Rockville, Carleton, Pace, Belvidere, Lebanon, and Brumby.

Attorneys for Shickley and

Ona, John Bottorff of Sutton and D. B. Massie of Clay Center, had objected to the Kansas-Nebraska application to drop the plans. They had contended, Bottorff said, that the company would make up to a 3 1/2 per cent return on its investment in the desired service and was obligated to go ahead with plans as a matter of public convenience and necessity.

The company contended that public necessity and convenience was not involved and that the proposition would not be a paying proposition.

None of the 13 towns now have gas and have just at the time they have waited for the K. N. G. Co. service, Bottorff said, when service might have been obtained from another source. Bottorff stated the question of an appeal from the FPC ruling has not been determined.

There is also the possibility, Bottorff said, that Ona and Shickley might be able to get gas service by working with farmers who can construct their own lines to the Kansas-Nebraska supply for irrigation purposes.

According to the Associated Press, the FPC, in the same order, authorized Kansas-Nebraska to build about 40 miles of pipeline, a new 1,200-horsepower compressor station, additional cooler and scrubber facilities and means of using and regulating facilities.

These will make possible transmission of greater amounts of gas eastward from newly developed fields in the Big Springs, Neb., and Logan County, Colo., areas, and will enable the company to serve four industrial customers in Nebraska. Most of the facilities already have been built under temporary authorization.

Total estimated cost of the expansion is $922,419. The company was also authorized to refrain from building about 98 miles of proposed new pipeline no longer needed because of the development of new gas sources at the northwest end of its system, in the Big Springs field and the Julesburg-Colorado basin.

Extended Forecast for Nebraska

Temperatures will average 3 degrees below normal in north Nebraska to normal in the south. Normal highs are near or slightly below 90 and normal lows range from the middle 50s in the west to upper 60s in the southeast. Cooler Saturday, but warmer again Sunday and Monday. Precipitation expected to average 50 to an inch in the east and about 30 in the west, occurring as scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers except for a period of more general showers about Tuesday.

VA Medical Division Moved To Hospital

The Veterans Administration medical division of the regional office has been moved from the Veterans Building at 12th & O to the Veterans Hospital, effective July 1.

Dr. R. F. Mullin will be chief of outpatient service at the hospital.

Dr. J. Melvin Boykin, manager of the Veterans Hospital here, said the transfer is in line with Veterans Administration reorganization plans.

A similar consolidation has been made at Veterans Hospital in Omaha, Dr. Boykin said.

Wife's Plea Brings Confession Of Breaking Into Garage

George Blazer, 46, of Omaha, pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to a charge of breaking and entering the Stevens Creek Garage near Walton last Wednesday.

Dep. Sheriff Del Ziemann told Judge Harry Spencer that all the stolen merchandise was believed recovered in possession of Blazer when he was arrested by Omaha police.

Omaha Detective Inspector Ernest Brown told the Associated Press that Blazer at first denied knowledge of the stolen goods, saying they must have been "planted" in his car.

Police then questioned Mrs. Blazer, 40, after finding several boxes of candy, identified as stolen, at the Blazer home.

Mrs. Blazer was then allowed to plead with her husband "to tell the truth" and the wife's plea, according to Brown, resulted in Blazer admitting he burglarized the Stevens Creek Garage. Mrs. Blazer was then released.

In District Court Friday Blazer said he had not been in trouble since 1936, but had been drinking and "just fell by the wayside."

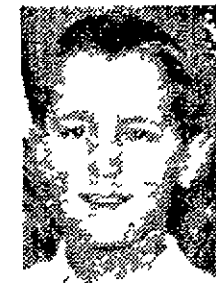

Dep. Co. Atty. Elmer Sneeley said Blazer admitted serving a three-year penitentiary term from Kearney County for grand larceny in 1936 and a one-year term for breaking and entering from Buffalo County in 1932.

Items recovered from the Stevens Creek Garage break-in included a radio, car parts, 12 boxes of spark plugs, tools, cigarettes, candy and $9.50 in change, according to Ziemann.

Judge Spencer deferred sentence of Blazer until Saturday morning, pending further investigation.

Meet Star Carrier Tommy Policky

Eleven year old Tommy Policky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Policky of Bee, Neb., has carried his Lincoln Star route faithfully since taking over last May 15.

Because of recent good catches of bluegills and bullheads in nearby Plum Creek, Tommy considered himself a pretty fair fisherman.

He is saving the profits from his route to purchase additional fishing equipment.

Tommy is establishing a good record for himself in dependability, friendliness and salesmanship through the faithful performance of the duties of his route.

Tommy agrees with his parents that he is making good use of otherwise spare time by carrying his Lincoln Star route to earn while he learns.

His plans for the future are not complete, but since he already can drive a tractor and enjoys working with machinery, he feels he would like to be a farmer when he grows up.

His route management experiences as a newspaper carrier should benefit Tommy considerably in whatever career he chooses.

Marion Brando, father of the screen star, has been awarded a $37,352 judgment in Lancaster District Court from the Black Ranches, Inc.

The amount was for 700 head of cattle allegedly delivered to the corporation in November 1951, for which payment was never received.

Brando of Mundelein, Ill., had taken an assignment of the contract for sale from the seven owners of the cattle.

District Judge Paul White awarded Brando $32,200 for the cattle and $5,152 as interest on the unpaid sum. The defendant did not contest the evidence adduced by the plaintiff.

areas, and will enable the company to serve four industrial customers in Nebraska. Most of the facilities already have been built under temporary authorization.

Total estimated cost of the expansion is $922,410. The company was also authorized to refrain from building about 98 miles of proposed new pipeline no longer needed because of the development of new gas sources at the northwest end of its system, in the Big Springs field and the Julesburg-Colorado basin.

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska:

Temperatures will average 3 degrees below normal in north Nebraska to normal in the south. Normal highs are near or slightly below 90 and normal lows range from the middle 50s in the west to upper 60s in the southeast. Cooler Saturday, but warmer again Sunday and Monday. Precipitation expected to average .50 to an inch in the east and about .50 in the west, occurring as scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers except for a period of more general showers about Tuesday.

Wife's Plea Brings Confession Of Breaking Into Garage

George Blazer, 46, of Omaha, pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to a charge of breaking and entering the Stevens Creek Garage near Walton last Wednesday.

Dep. Sheriff Del Ziemann told Judge Harry Spencer that all the stolen merchandise was believed recovered in possession of Blazer when he was arrested by Omaha police.

Omaha Detective Inspector Ernest Brown told the Associated Press that Blazer at first denied knowledge of the stolen goods, saying they must have been "planted" in his car.

Police then questioned Mrs. Blazer, 40, after finding several boxes of candy, identified as stolen, at the Blazer home.

Mrs. Blazer was then allowed to plead with her husband "to tell the truth" and the wife's plea, according to Brown, resulted in Blazer admitting he burglarized the Stevens Creek Garage. Mrs. Blazer was then released.

In District Court Friday, Blazer said he had not been in trouble since 1936, but had been drinking and "just fell by the wayside."

Dep. Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele said Blazer admitted serving a three-year penitentiary term from Kearney County for grand larceny in 1936 and a one-year term for breaking and entering from Buffalo County in 1932.

Items recovered from the Stevens Creek Garage break-in included a radio, car parts, 12 boxes of spark plugs, tools, cigarettes, candy and $9.50 in change, according to Ziemann. Judge Spencer deferred sentence of Blazer until Saturday morning, pending further investigation.

Meet Star Carrier Tommy Policky

Eleven year old Tommy Policky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Policky of Bee, Neb., has carried his Lincoln Star route faithfully since taking over last May 15.

Because of recent good catches of bluegills and bull heads in nearby Plum Creek, Tommy considered himself a pretty fair fisherman.

He is saving the profits from his route to purchase additional fishing equipment.

Tommy is establishing a good record for himself in dependability, friendliness and salesmanship through the faithful performance of the duties of his route.

Tommy agrees with his parents that he is making good use of otherwise spare time by carrying his Lincoln Star route to earn while he learns.

His plans for the future are not complete, but since he already can drive a tractor and enjoys working with machinery, he feels he would like to be a farmer when he grows up.

His route management experiences as a newspaper carrier should benefit Tommy considerably in whatever career he chooses.

Services Held For Stephen B. Cole, Lifetime Nebraska

Lincoln Star Special

LEXINGTON, Neb. — Funeral services were held here for Stephen B. Cole, 94, a Nebraska pioneer who died at his home in Lexington.

Born at Plattsmouth, in the territory of Nebraska seven years before it became a state, he took a tree claim in 1886 on government land in Chase County near the present site of Imperial. Five years later he moved to Gosper County near Lexington where he resided the remainder of his life.

Surviving are his wife, Nellie, and one daughter, Mrs. Hazel M. Sittlington of Hawthorne, Calif.

$37,353 Judgment Awarded Brando

Marlon Brando, father of the screen star, has been awarded a $37,352 judgment in Lancaster District Court from the Black Ranches, Inc.

The amount was for 700 head of cattle allegedly delivered to the corporation in November, 1951, for which payment was never received.

Brando of Mundelein, Ill., had taken an assignment of the contract for sale from the seven owners of the cattle.

District Judge Paul White awarded Brando $32,500 for the cattle and $5,152 as interest on the unpaid sum. The defendant did not contest the evidence adduced by the plaintiff.

Woman On Probation On Bad Check Charge

Edith E. Humrich, 26, of 138 No. 19th, was placed on probation for two years by the Lancaster District Court on a bad check charge.

The defendant had pleaded guilty to issuing a $5 no-account check to a Lincoln store. Judge Spencer ordered her to make restitution on $292.50 worth of outstanding checks as part of the probation.
